HONOR SOCIETY

National Honor Society

THE National Honor Society is the only purely honorary society at Central. The members are chosen each year during the last few months of school on the basis of their scholarship, extra-curricular activities, and character.

The Central chapter, which was organized in 1922, was the first chapter to be organized in any Missouri High School.

Election to membership is determined by a faculty committee. Any student who has ever been guilty of dishonest conduct or truancy becomes ineligible.

To be eligible to election, a student must rank in scholarship among the upper twenty-five per cent of the senior class. However, not more than ten per cent of the class may be elected.

The average, or index of scholarships is obtained by giving number values to each grade recorded in our Senior High School. E counts 4; S, 3; M, 2; I, 1; F, 0. The sum of these grades is divided by the total number of grades. Two non solid credits count as one solid. Gymnasium and R. O. T. C. credits are not included. A student may be elected to membership if he has an average of 3.5 even though he has no honor points.

Honors for extra curricular activities are based on competition, popularity, and appointment. No student can count more than two honors in the five point column and minor honors are also limited. In no case can two honors in the same activity be counted twice, either by duplicating or by pyramiding; for example, three is the maximum for participating in plays.

A student's combined scholarship and honor rank is found by adding to the grade average the total number of honor points, divided by ten. The grade average must be at least 2.6 and there must be enough honor points to raise the average to 3.5. An honor point is deducted for every five cases of tardiness.

Until a few years ago, one-half of the members of the society could be juniors; but this plan proved unsatisfactory at Central. Students who have been in Central one year only are ineligible according to the National Constitution.

The object of the National Honor Society is to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to develop character in the students of America's secondary schools.

SCHOLARSHIP

The Senior Class of 1930

AS freshmen, the class of 1930 chose the following officers: Billy Rownd, president; Richard Brown, vice-president; Dorothy Martin, secretary, and Virginia Rufi, treasurer.

Approximately five hundred shophomores entered Central Senior High School in 1928. Among the honors gained by members of the class were, positions on the basketball and football teams, membership to literary societies and departmental clubs, and important parts in dramatic presentations.

The class officers in the junior year were: Maxine Tappan, president; and Billy Rownd, Virginia Rufi, Richard Brown, Helen Rowe, Ben Husbands, Georgia Ruth Cox, Zelda Booser and Joe Yudkofsky, junior aids. The class succeeded in becoming one of the most prominent groups of juniors, ever known at Central.
The senior year came far too soon for many. Leading the class this year were Maxine Tappan, president; Richard Brown, vice-president; Billy Rownd, giftorian; Charles Siemon, secretary; Virginia Rufi, girls' senior editor Centralian; Zelda Booser, treasurer; Georgia Ruth Cox, sergeant-at-arms, and Helen Rowe, general chairman of committees.

Early this spring, a senior meeting was held for the purpose of electing the boys and girls who seemed typical of the different phases of school activities. The results of the senior ballot were as follows: Virginia Rufi; Girl Who Has Done Most for Central; Billy Rownd, Boy Who Has Done Most for Central; Maxine Tappan, Most Popular Girl; Richard Brown, Most Popular Boy; Helen Rowe, Belle Brummell; Edgar Strong, Beau Brummell; Dorothy Martin, Best Girl Student; Franklin Pugh, Best Boy Student; Rebecca Dunn, Best Girl Actress; Leo Bergman, Best Boy Actor; Madalyn Gray, Best Girl Athlete; Herbert Mallon, Best Boy Athlete; Dolores Vasholtz, Best Girl Orator; Joe Yudkofsky, Best Boy Orator; Joy Minturn, Jolly Good Girl; and Ben Husbands, Jolly Good Boy.

In the years the members of the class of 1930 have been attending Central, they have indeed made an enviable record and have succeeded in making theirs "The Senior Class," in Central history.

Dear Jack:

To a boy with such a fine speaking ability, pleasing appearance, and likeable disposition nothing but success could fall in his path.

I hope that you are as successful in everything you undertake in the future as you have been in the past.

Sincerely,
Mark Tappan

MAXINE TAPPAN

President Senior Class; President Junior Class; Sponsor Colonel R. O. T. C.; President Society of Literature and History; President El Circulo Espanol; National Honor Society; Vice-President Student Council; Officer Botanical Club '29; Girls' High School Club Cabinet; Intersociety Representative '29, '30; Senior Ballot: Most Popular Girl; Student Council Cabinet '28, '29; Officer Activity Group '28; Perfect Attendance.

Charm and individuality won for Maxine scores of friends at Central and she was acclaimed the most popular person in her class.

RICHARD PARKE BROWN

Vice-President Senior Class; Luminary Staff; Head Cheerleader '30; Alternate Head Cheerleader '29; Student Council '28, '29, '30; President Boys' High School Club; Representative Constitutional Oration Contest; President Central Franklin Club; Junior Aide; Chairman Amusement Committee; Senior Ballot: Most Popular Boy; Intersociety Representative.

Dick ably filled the second place in the class. He was a fine orator and as good a friend.

WILLIAM E. ROWND

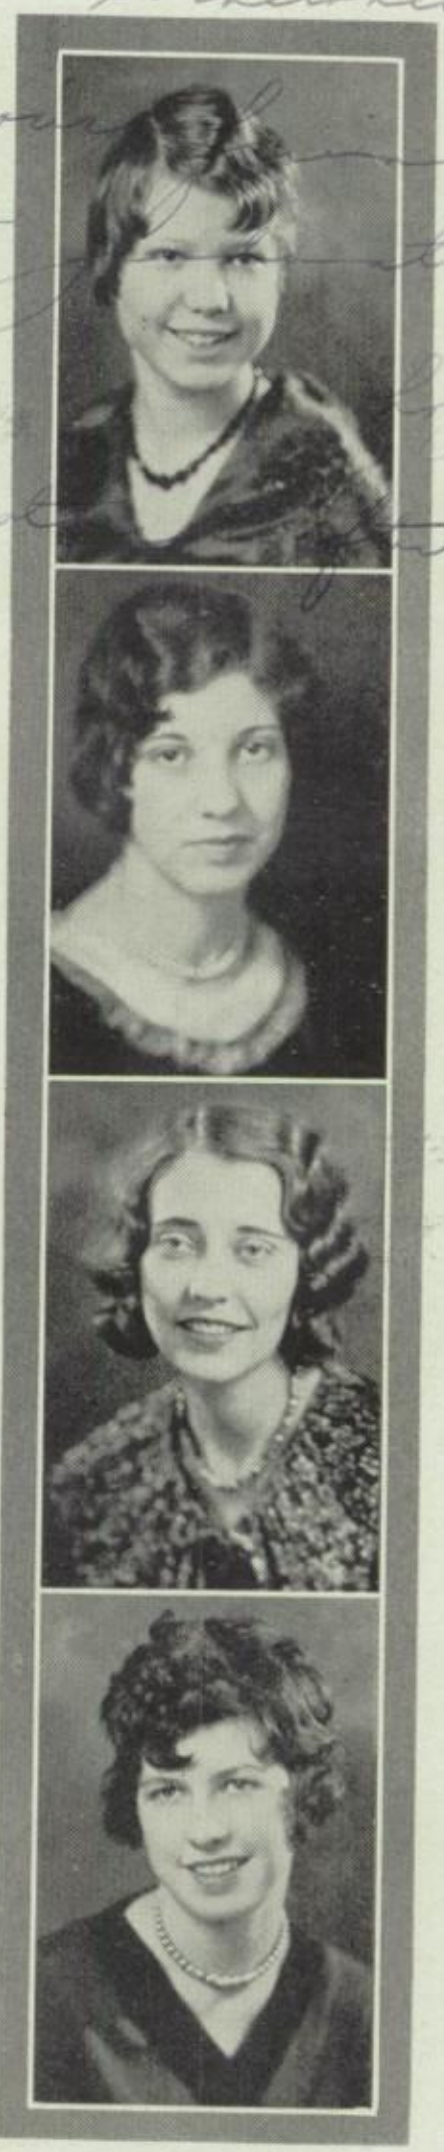
Giftorian Senior Class; Editor-in-Chief Centralian; President Boys' High School Club; President Central Webster Club; President Drama Club; Chairman Senior Gift Committee; Intersociety Council; Intersociety Representative '29; Cabinet Boys' High School Club '29; Junior Aide; Student Council '28, '29; "Passing of the Third Floor Back"; Lead in "Strongheart"; "Three Graces"; "Man or Mouse"; First Sergeant R. O. T. C.; National Honor Society; Senior Ballot: Boy Who Has Done Most for Central; Bank Cashier.

Nothing better can be said than that he succeeded in everything he undertook. He was always a leader.

CHARLES K. SIEMON

Secretary Senior Class; Vice-President Boys' High School Club; Drama Club; President Student Council; Chairman Program Committee; Central Webster Club; National Honor Society; "Once in a Lifetime"; "Johnny Get Your Gun"; "Man or Mouse."

Chuck was likeable and made unnumbered friends among his classmates which is shown by his numerous honors.



VIRGINIA RUFI

Girls' Senior Editor Centralian; President Aristonian Literary Society; Sponsor Captain R. O. T. C.; Senior Ballot: Girl Who Has Done Most for Central; National Honor Society; Managing Editor Luminary; Medal Pinner Central Webster Club; Secretary Student Council '30; Junior Aide; Circulation Manager Centralian '29; Gold Medal Latin III Missouri State Contest; Bronze Medal Latin II Missouri State Contest; Intersociety Representative Story '30; Senior Entertainment Committee; Intersociety Council; Officer Le Cercle Francais; Student Council '28, '29, '30; Bank Cashier; Girls' High School Club; Perfect Attendance.

Her unusual qualities of leadership and personality are indicated by her many high honors and great number of friends.

ZELDA BOOSER

Treasurer Senior Class; President Minerva Literary Society; National Honor Society; President Student Council; Bank Cashier; Junior Aide; Central Gregg Writers; Central Art Club; Le Cercle Francais; Girls' High School Club.

Her rare charm of personality and her beauty of character made everyone who knew her desire her friendship.

GEORGIA RUTH COX

Sergeant-at-Arms Senior Class; President Minerva Literary Society; Medal Pinner Central Franklin Club; Junior Aide; National Honor Society; Intersociety Representative Story '30; Sponsor Captain R. O. T. C.; Cabinet Girls' High School Club; Secretary Student Council '30; Student Council '29, '30; Le Cercle Francais; Gregg Writers; Art Club; Officer Zoological Society; Bank Cashier.

Ability to be a leader, willingness to work, and the possession of qualities needed to make friends made Georgia Ruth a leader.

HELEN MARGARET ROWE

General Chairman of Committees; Aristonian Literary Society; Junior Aide; Chairman Pin and Ring Committee; Student Council '28; Girls' High School Club; Senior Ballot: Belle Brummel; El Circulo Espanol; Luminary Staff; Zoological Society.

We knew the meaning of the words "jolly good" when we met this bewitching bit of feminine loveliness. Really the sweetheart of us all.

WALTER W. ARNOLD
Walt was in about the same proportions as his namesake in the comic strip; but, as the old saying goes, those who are fat are the jolliest.

VIRGINIA LEE ASBURY
Of every noble work, the silent part is best. Virginia always had her own opinions on matters and was admired for being able to keep them and being willing to listen to others.

HARRIET SHIRLEY AHLBERG
We will always remember Harriet for her sweetness of personality and charm of manner. She was an ideal friend to all who knew her.

RUTH JUSTINE ALLING
Girls' High School Club.
A splendid girl and a friend well-worth having. We shall remember her for her strength of character and sweet personality.

FRANCIS AMOR
Second Team Football '28, '29.
In this year of school, Francis has spread cheerfulness throughout the building. We admire his happy-go-lucky nature.

RUTH MARGARET BARTH
President Aristonian Literary Society; National Honor Society; President Trouvere Club; Senior Program Committee; Luminary Staff; "Strongheart"; "Johnny Get Your Gun"; "Once in a Lifetime"; Drama Club; "Pinafore"; "Bells of Capistrano."
Her jolly nature, her sparkling vivacity, and her ability as an actress have endeared her to the hearts of all at Central.

WILLIAM R. BARNES
Perfect Attendance.
Although not intensely interested in the school routine, he developed a character that will carry him through a successful life.

CHARLES E. BATEMAN
Band; Orchestra.
Chuck made his record in the musical line. His work in our two groups of players won him the acclaim of the directors and the members.

GERALD A. BAUER
The least we can say of Gerald is that he did not "blow his own horn." Modesty is a virtue we all admire, especially in a fellow like him.

SAM BEEK
Second Team Basketball '28; First Team Basketball '29; "C" Club.
We will always remember Sam for his excellent work on the basketball floor. While on the court, he made a formidable rival for his opponents.

VIRGINIA ALICE BENTON
Aristonian Literary Society; Central Dramatic Club.
Her sincerity of purpose and her high standards and ideals won for her many friends while at Central.

ROBERT BERMAN
"A genial disposition brings its owner many friends." Any friend of Bob's could vouch for the truth of this statement. He filled his place in the school life.

ROBERT BELL
Orchestra; El Circulo Espanol; Latin Club; Interscholastic Contest '29.

We will often wonder how he got his Latin so well that he could represent us at Columbia. He seems to be a bear at languages, having taken up Spanish.

LEO H. BERGMAN
President Central Franklin Club; Gold Medal Declamation; First Team Football; Second Team Football; "C" Club; Drama Club; Luminary Staff; Lead in "Johnny Get Your Gun"; 'Strongheart"; "Man or Mouse"; Senior Committee; Senior Ballot: Best Boy Actor.

Leo's hearty laugh and strong handshake made him a friend to everyone that knew him.

GEORGE BLANTON
Central Webster Club; Luminary Staff.

Although his honors are few, his friends are many. With his ready laugh and constant good humor he made and kept a host of friends.

HAROLD C. BIRD
Second Team Basketball '29; First Team Basketball '30; Track '28; First Team Football '29; National Athletic Scholarship Society; Central "C" Club.

Harold was one of those rare fellows who was able to make a fine average and still continue his athletics with success.

DOROTHY MAE BLACKMORE
Central Olympian Club; All Star Basketball Team '28, '29; Hockey Team '28, '29; Baseball Team '28, '29; Missouri State Letter; Volleyball Team '28; Pinkick Team '29; Small "C".

She possesses the qualities that make a true and desirable friend.

THEODORIC C. BLAND
Second Team Football '28; First Team Football '29, '30; Track Team '29, '30; Basketball '29, '30; Student Council; Boys' High School Club; Central Franklin Club; El Circulo Espanol.

When the opposing captain called for a hole to be made through tackle, he usually found an impregnable wall in Theo.

MARGARET MILDRED BLUMEL
Art Club; Honorable Mention R. O. T. C. Poster Contest.

Margaret was always steadily working to attain the very best and we are sure she will succeed.

JUNIOR BOCK
"Johnny Get Your Gun"; "Man or Mouse"; "Strongheart"; "The Three Graces"; Intersociety Representative '30; "Once in a Lifetime".

Junior's ability on the stage made him outstanding in Central's activities. In character parts his performance was usually unbeatable.

FRED BODEN Band.

His unfailing wit, delightful personality, and cheery disposition won for Fred the admiration of everyone who knew him.

LORAINE BODEN
Society of Literature and History; Girls' High School Club; Central Botanical Club; Central Zoological Society.

Central was fortunate this year in having two such fine girls as Loraine and Lucille and is sorry to lose them both for their many good qualities.

LUCILLE BODEN
Society of Literature and History; Girls' High School Club; Central Botanical Club.

Lucille was as truly a gem as her sister. Both possess qualities which will take them a long, long way.

HENRIETTA MARY BONAVIEZ
Minerva Literary Society; Le Cercle Francais; National Honor Society; Intersociety Representative Essay '30.

She possessed an alert mind and an inexhaustible store of knowledge which aided her greatly in her work at Central.

MARION MCCLURE BOREN
Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; "Three Graces."

Marion was right there when it came to army. He always said he would like to attend a military academy and we believe that he would have made good in one. We are glad he was with us, though.

ELMO EDWARD BOSTON
Central Webster Club; Boys' High School Club; Central Zoological Society.

Central was unlucky in not having this hale, hardy, and well-met young man throughout his three years. On his return to Central, however, he renewed those many friendships he had formed in Junior High.

MARIAN BOOTON
Girls' High School Club; Volleyball Team '28, '29; Baseball Team '28.

A jolly girl, always ready for fun and a good time. We all like Marian for her pep and cheerfulness of disposition.

BEVERLY B. BRADISH
Rifle Club.

Although his name is not graced by a string of honors, he did well in what he took up. He could send those bullets down there for a good score and he could make friends as easily.

VIROM ELNORA BRAIN
Central Olympian Club; Central Botanical Club.

Those who knew her enjoyed her company. She was always sincere in manner and courageous in spirit.

ALLEN JEAN BRANDS
Track Squad.

Allen was one of those quiet fellows that had plenty of friends. In classes his voice was never evident but his heart was always in his work. He seemed to have time for track also.

ROSE BRAMSOHN
Central Gregg Writers '29; Gold Typing Award; Central Zoological Society.

A charming brunette whose ambitions in life are high and whose personality and ability highly recommend her for success in any career.

JOHN GREGORY BRANNON
Central Emerson Club; President "C" Club; Drama Club; El Circulo Espanol; Boys' High School Club; Tennis Letter Man; Track Team '28, '29; Botany Club; Student Council; Sports Editor Luminary; Sports Editor Centralian

This good looking and likeable lad caused many a young lady's heart to flutter and besides excelled in tennis and track.

MAXINE E. BRIER
Delphian Literary Society; Central Dramatic Club; Central Botanical Club.

I ought to be better always
For the light of her bright, blue eyes;
I ought to be better always
For the sweetness that in her lies.

ALICE BROBERG
Orchestra; Girls' High School Club.

Alice was liked by all who knew her and was the possessor of a pleasing personality.

MARGARET E. BROCKMAN
Delphian Literary Society; Central Botanical Club '29.

You may meet Margaret and judge for yourself. Always ready for fun or work and a girl of whom Central is proud.

HARRIETTE FRANCES BROWN

One of the many girls of whom Central has great cause to be proud both because of her ability to work and her willingness to do so.

FREDERIC A. BROWNELL
Boys' High School Club; Central Franklin Club; Student Council; Intersociety Representative.

Fred has not been in the Franklins long, although he was always with them in spirit, but he has shown that he's made of fine material.

WILLIAM E. BRAMWELL
"C" Club; Tennis Team '29; Boys' High School Club.

Central was always sure of a hard fought match when Billy was on the courts. His ever ready racket won a lot of praise for him and our team.

BILL BRYAN
First Team Basketball '30.

After the mid-year Bill took a place as guard on the basketball team and filled that position admirably until his injury.

PHILIP BRUMBAUGH

Phil was never outstanding in any of his work but he was never lacking. His mania for tennis found him on the courts for the majority of his spare time.

DONALD ALFRED BRUMWELL

Quiet and thoughtful, his work stands out, radiating his ability and personality. His cheerful aspect toward all phases of school life will last forever.

BERNICE LYNN BURNS

No false glitterings, sterling all through. No false pretenses, sincere all the way through.

HOWARD C. BURNS

In R. O. T. C. Howard was always in the thick of everything. His ability in this line made a lasting impression with what ever unit he was connected.

EARLE D. BUTTON
President Central Webster Club; President Officers' Club; Captain R. O. T. C.; Cabinet Boys' High School Club; Crack Platoon '28, '29; Crack Company '28, 29; Intersociety Representative; National Honor Society.

Earle was in everything and he did well in all of them. In club, in army, and in Boys' High he won honor for his work.

PAUL RAYMOND BYRUM, JR.
Central Webster Club; Crack Company '28; Crack Platoon '28; Second Team Football '29; Cadet Colonel R. O. T. C.; President Officers' Club; Boys' High School Club.

In army he excelled all for he was chosen to lead the battalion as a colonel. He was plenty good at the rest of his studies too.

ROSS L. CALHOUN
Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Member State Championship High School Rifle Team; Central First Rifle Team '28, '29, '30; First Corps Area Team '28, '29, '30.

Rifle Team; City Champion Cadet Rifle Shot '29; Crack Company '29; Crack Platoon '29.

Ross might be called "Deadeye Dick." His numerous bull's eyes won the rifle matches for Central last year.

SAMUEL S. CALVERT
Boys' High School Club; Crack Platoon '29; Crack Company '29.

Sam was good enough in army to get a position in the Crack Company and Platoon, and that's saying a lot.

RICHARD C. CAMERON
Non-Commissioned Officer R. O. T. C.

Dick and Dot. They made a pair around Central that we always saw together. Dick's deviltry kept him moving. "The life of excitement is the most interesting," some learned man has said.

LEON L. CAPLAN
Student Council; Bank Cashier.

We find in Leon a fellow who worked hard in all he tried. Those in his company in army can say as much for him as he was an outstanding cadet.

CHARLES L. CARPENTER

The kind that was seen and not heard but still had plenty of personality to put himself over with everybody. He filled his place in the school life to the best of his ability.

DOROTHY FRANCES CARNES
Society of Literature and History; Silver Medal Revolutionary Essay Contest; Bronze Medal Intersociety '28.

Some day we know we shall see Dot's name among the famous writers for she has demonstrated at Central her ability in that line.

CHARLES WILEY CARTER

He was always ready for a good time and he usually had it. He never worried over his work but he seemed to get through safe and sound despite his doctrine of procrastination.

VIOLET MARIE CHUM
Girls' High School Club.

We wish there were more girls like Violet. A true and sincere friend to all and yet an earnest worker and a jolly companion.

MILDRED G. CLARK
Thalian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club.

She always did her best, and you can be sure that was indeed fine.

Dear Jack,
I hope you have all the success in the world, and
I will always think of you
as a helpful kid.
Dot Carnes

THELMA MAIRE CLARK
Girls' High School Club.

It has been said virtue itself commands happiness, so we know Thelma must be a very happy person all the while.

CHARLOTTE JEAN CLASEN
German Club; Bank Cashier; Senior Flower Committee.

It is indeed an admirable quality to show the interest and willing spirit so characteristic of Charlotte. Those with such an attitude are invaluable to any school.

THOMAS M. CLEMENT
Football '29; Central "C" Club; Student Council '28, '29.

Tommy and Spence were looked upon throughout school as pals in fun. His hilarity did not keep him from hard work on the team.

VIOLA CLOSE

She didn't walk the corridors of Central chanting her own praises, but her character speaks for her.

NETTIE BETH CADE
Thalian Literary Society; El Circulo Espanol; Central Botanical Club '29; Central Zoological Society; "Once in a Lifetime".

The thing that goes the farthest
Toward making things worthwhile;
That costs the least and does the most
Is just a pleasant smile.

FRANCES ELIZABETH COLE
Perfect Attendance; Girls' High School Club.

Her record of perfect attendance proves that she is always on the job, ready for work and play alike.

EMMETT V. CONKLING
Society of Literature and History.

With but S. L. H. to grace his name, he was known among his club brothers and a host of others as a prince of good fellows. His modesty and taciturnity only proved that still water runs deep.

WILLIAM FORESTER COOKE, JR.
Boys' High School Club; Student Council; Central Emerson Club.

Forester was out of club for quite a long time, but when he got back in he worked hard to make up for lost time.

LELAND C. COX
Second Team Football '28.

Leland made our second team in '28, but he didn't make the first in '29. Nevertheless, we feel he has done us a great service in his help in building the first teams.

FRANCES CRAVEN
Central Olympian Club; Central Gregg Writers; Baseball Team '28; Volley Ball Team '28, '29; Basketball Team '28, '29; Hockey Team '30; Pinkick Team '28.

Her never failing good humor and earnest spirit of cooperation made her known as capable.

FAIRY ELECTA CUNNINGHAM
Girls' High School Club; Bank Cashier; "Once in a Lifetime."

We predict that Fairy will dance her way through life for she has surely danced her way through high school.

MONICA DANIELS
Silver Typing Award; Girls' High School Club; El Circulo Espanol; Central Gregg Writers.

We've always liked her, for she's the type who will surely make a success of her life.

HARRY EUGENE DAVIS
Harry was always busy with his outside work but never too busy to make and keep a lotta friends among his associates. We were sorry he did not have time to take part in more events.

BETTY LOUISE DAVIDSON
Delphian Literary Society; Central Trouvere Club; Le Cercle Francais; Orchestra '28, '29, '30.

Betty is a talented girl and will surely be as great a success in life as she has been at Central.

JUNE DAVIS
Central Zoological Society '30.

A good heart is more valuable than gold and a good mind is more valuable than all the gems.

EDNA M. DAWSON
Central Trouvere Club; Choral Club; "Pinafore;" "Bells of Capistrano."

Edna was a very susceptible character—always there with a ready smile.

DARWIN DELAP, JR.
Student Council.

He may not have discovered and asserted as many things as the well-known Darwin, but he has stood forward as one who worked hard in everything he tried.

FRANCES DILLON
Le Cercle Francais; Society of Literature and History.

Charming manner,
Winning way,
She's courteous and sweet
The entire day.

JESS DONALDSON, JR.
Orchestra; Band; Second Team Football '28; Track Squad '29.

A musician and an athlete, an odd combination, but he made it seem like a natural one by his success in both lines.

BENJAMIN C. DRIGGS
Student Council; Bank Cashier; "Mikado"; "Pinafore"; "Bells of Capistrano"; Trouvere Club; President Glee Club.

In the music department Ben is counted as one of their best. This has not kept him from having a lot of friends on the outside of this ring.

DOROTHY A. DUBOIS
All Star Hockey Team '29; Swimming Team '28, 29; Central Gregg Writers '29; Luminary Staff.

Dorothy proved by her untiring work on the Luminary as typist that she is of the conscientious type which goes far in the world.

MARIE DUEBBERT
Central Olympian Club; Hockey Team '29; Basketball Team '28, '29, '30; Volleyball Team '29; Student Council '30; Big "C"; Hike Manager; Senior Life Saving.

Woman is indeed a jewel, and when in a special edition such as this one, no price is high enough.

KENNETH E. DUEKER
Crack Platoon '28; Crack Company '29; Glee Club; Ensemble Chorus, Music Contest; Lead "Bells of Capistrano"; Bank Cashier; Student Council; Central Emerson Club; Honor Society.

Kenny mixed his singing with his army but luckily he didn't sing in ranks.

REBECCA DUNN
Thalian Literary Society; National Honor Society; Senior Ballot: Best Girl Actress; Intersociety Representative '29, '30; Lead "Three Graces"; Lead "Strongheart;" Lead "Johnny Get Your Gun"; Luminary Staff; "Bells of Capistrano."

"Becky's" accomplishments were many—a born actress, possessor of a scintillating personality, and a true friend.

GEORGE EUGENE ENGLISH
Eugene was always cutting up in Mr. Rush's room but he managed to get his work done also. We know he must have in his other classes judging from his grades.

ESTHER EMILIA ENGLUND
President Aristonian Literary Society; Student Council; Central Gregg Writers.

Her poise, her spirit of friendliness, and her dignity made her popular with her violet sisters and all who knew her.

ELIZABETH ESRY
"Three Graces."

Betty is a good-natured person and is certainly deserving of her many friends.

JOHN ORVILLE EVANS
First Sergeant R. O. T. C. '29, '30; Crack Platoon '28; Crack Company '28; First Team Basketball Team '30; Central Webster Club.

Although he wasn't on the floor very often he was on the bench ready for emergency. Between his army work and basketball he was kept pretty busy.

VIOLETTE EVANS
Violette was gentle of speech and beneficient of mind. By her many good virtues she won scores of friends at Central who will remember her among their high school memories.

LILLIAN FARNSWORTH
Delphian Literary Society; Central Dramatic Club; Girls' High School Club; "Once in a Iifetime."

Her loyalty and dependability were outstanding during her years at Central. Responsibility became her well.

ELDON FELDMAN

Eldon was a splendid fellow and a friend worth having. He was always sincere in manner and courageous in spirit.

DOROTHY FERGUSON

Aristonian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Central Dramatic Club.

An interesting companion, a true friend, and a loyal Aristonian violet.

MEREDITH FILKIN

President Aristonian Literary Society; Central Olympian Club; Championship Baseball Team; Bank Cashier; Student Council; Girls' High School Club; Intersociety Swimming Meet Winner; Volleyball Team '28.

Meredith possesses many fine qualities as is proved by the large host of her friends, both boys and girls.

MARJORIE ANN FITCHIE

Girls' High School Club; Pinkick Team '28; Volleyball '28; Hockey Team '29; Baseball Team '29; Junior Life Saving.

Marjorie was primarily interested in athletics, but has proved that she can excel in other lines as well.

MARJORIE FOX

Society of Literature and History; Student Council; Senior Pin and Ring Committee; Girls' High School Club; El Circulo Espanol; Luminary Staff.

Vivid and entertaining, Marjorie was liked by all. Through her friends, both girls and boys, she was able to attain anything she wished at Central.

ROSECELIA FRANKLIN

Everyone is welcome into her realm of friendship. She was always willing to make friends and had the ability to keep them.

ALLEN FREEMAN

His blue eyes won him a lot of admirers, but a young sophomore already held his heart. His ready laugh and jokes made him one of the best of friends, although he did leave us at mid-year.

JULIA ANN FRICK

Julia was an unusual girl, counted as good in her studies and among her classmates, and we liked to be numbered among her friends.

VIVIAN FULLER

El Circulo Espanol; "Man or Mouse"; "Strongheart."

We shall always respect Vivian for her fine qualities of friendship and superlative character.

RAY FULLERTON

Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Central Rifle Club; Crack Platoon '28.

Ray's main objective in Central was to make a success of his army. We believe he has succeeded judging from his honors in this line.

BILL FUNK

Bill was not outstanding in any of his work, but it cannot be denied that he does work hard in everything he tries.

DORIS LYDIA GADD

President Delphian Literary Society; Central Olympian Club; Officer Activity Group '28; Bank Cashier '28, '29, '30; Student Council '28, '29; Volleyball Team; Basketball Team; Hockey Team; Baseball Team; Big "C"; small "C"; Mo. State Letter; Central Botanical Club.

She shines as prominently among her friends as she does in athletics.

LEAH GANDAL
El Circulo Espanol.
Leah's ever enduring enthusiasm endeared her to us all. Her very frowns were as fair as smiles of other maidens.

MARY EDITH GANOW
Clothed in silent dignity, and a steadfastness of purpose and yet a jolly and good little sport, "Dutch" held her own among us.

VIRGINIA DOROTHY GARDNER
Choral Club.
Radiating good cheer everywhere, dressing stylishly, and endeavoring to do her best, Virginia has been a true friend.

JOYCE MARJORIE GARRIQUES
Officer Central Art Club; Certificate of Merit for Humane Poster; Luminary Staff; Girls' High School Club.
Capable and dependable, Joyce could always be counted on to accept responsibility and see the job to its completion.

WANDA GERSTENBERGER
Orchestra '28, '29.
She has a nature that is gentle and refined. Always ready to make friends and equally glad to have them and to keep them.

FRANCES GIBSON
Of some it can be said that they are honorable, talented or sincere, but of Frances this all is true, and more.

ENNIS BYRON GICKER
Central Emerson Club; Boys' High School Club; Spanish Club; Drama Club; Glee Club; Mailing Manager Luminary; Student Council; Band; Handbook Committee. the ladies, but no wonder for his dancing and his personality put him over with everyone.

MILTON EDWIN GOOLDY
Central Franklin Club; Boys' High School Club; Tennis Team '29, '30; Student Council '28, '29, '30; Managing Editor Luminary; Central "C" Club; Bank Cashier; Senior Celebration Committee.
Milton was one of the main cogs of the Franklins. His work on the paper and at tennis won him honor also.

BERTHA GORTENBURG
President German Club; Gold Typing Award; Silver Typing Award; National Honor Society; "Once in a Lifetime."
The least we can say of Bertha is that she has a quiet, winning way which makes her well-liked by all.

LUCILLE V. GRACEY
Central Trouvere Club; "Pinafore;" "Bells of Capistrano;" Choral Club.
A genial disposition brought Lucille many friends who will not soon forget her.

EDWARD S. GRAHAM
Student Council; Spanish Club; Boys' High School Club; Cabinet Boys' High School Club '29; Secretary Boys' High '30; Art Club.
Eddie was small but he made up for this deficiency by being big in school activities.

MARY ESTELLE GRAHAM
She that was ever fair, yet never proud,
Had tongue at will, yet was never loud.

Jack -
I sure hope to see you in movies some day. (ha) Here's wishing you lots of success & luck in the future.
Ernie

HATTIE CATHERINE GRAVES

Hattie was a valuable person to have around the school because of her friendly manner and disposition, and would be considered a valuable member of any institution.

MADALYN LYNDON GRAY

Aristonian Literary Society; President Olympian Club; Girls' Rifle Team '28, '29; Gregg Writers '29; Manager Volleyball; Junior Life Saving; Hockey; Basketball; Baseball; Big "C"; Small "C"; Pinkick; Volleyball; Swimming Team; Senior Ballot: Best Girl Athlete.

Although she did not try to display her many good qualities, she was a fine girl and an excellent sport.

EDWIN GREEN

President Central Webster Club; Second Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Officers' Club; "Johnny Get Your Gun"; Editor-in-Chief Luminary; Intersociety Rep. '30; Drama Club; Senior Entertainment Committee

The humorist of school; however, he won the highest office on the Luminary staff and held a lot of other important positions.

ALBERT MANUAL GREENBERG

Spanish Club.

Al tried a lot of things in Central, among them was Public Speaking; he succeeded in accomplishing a better standing and more worth to his class and to himself.

FRANCIS L. GREENER

Student Council.

His good qualities allowed him to do his work well. A practical mind and earnest effort are two outstanding qualities that he possessed.

KARL R. GREENER

Although this fellow left us at mid-year we still remember the work he did while he was at Central. We wish him success in whatever he undertakes.

ERNEST H. GRIESEL

Stage Crew '28; Second Team Basketball '28; First Team Basketball '29; Track; "C" Club; Zoology Club.

Ernie was swell at athletics and he won a lot of friends in the clubs also.

CHARITY GUNTHER

Girls' High School Club.

Her qualities are balanced perfectly and she is a friend to all.

DOROTHEA R. HAGNEY

Aristonian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club.

Although Dorothea seemed rather quiet to some people, she was really a lively girl and was the possessor of an alert mind.

Although you have pestered me quite a bit I still think you're a keen kid.
Mary

MARY HAMPTON

Delphian Literary Society; Student Council '28, '29; Officer Activity Group '28.

Mary was gifted with beauty besides the many other attributes which won for her a place among her classmates.

JACK HANBACK

Central Emerson Club; Drama Club; Lead "Johnny Get Your Gun"; "Three Graces"; "Passing of the Third Floor Back"; "Strong-heart"; "Man or Mouse"; Silver Medal Columbia; Bus. Man. Luminary; Intersoc. Repres.

Everyone remembers "The Log" which Jack helped to create. His versatile nature is shown by this and that he won a lead in the fall play.

HELEN HANEY

We seldom find a girl as sweet and interested in her work as Helen. She was a comfort to her teachers and a lovable girl to have as a friend.

DOROTHEA EDNA HANNA
Girls' High School Club.

Central has been made a better place because of Dorothea and she has lent inspiration to many.

ASTRID M. HANZELIUS
Gregg Writers '28, '29.

In all things the supreme excellence is simplicity. Astrid was another girl who excelled in all she did.

HELEN M. HANZELIUS
Efficiency must be her motto
For she constantly makes it her aim.
In what she attempts, she's successful—
Her fun and her studies the same.

JOE HARBAUGH
Co-Captain Football Team '29; President Central "C" Club '29; National Athletic Scholarship Society; Captain Second All-Star Football Team '28; Track Team '29; Second Team Basketball '28.

The athletes recognized his ability when they elected him co-captain; the school, in his hard fighting on the field.

MARY A. HARPER
Thalian Literary Society; Managing Editor Luminary; Lead in "Johnny Get Your Gun"; Centralian Staff; "Man or Mouse"; "Strong-heart"; Student Council; Intersociety Representative '30; Senior Flower Committee; Drama Club

Her keen wit and unfailing sense of humor made it easy for her to make friends.

ED HARRISON
No one could help liking him for his many good qualities were readily recognized around school. His willingness to become a friend made many lasting acquaintances among his classmates.

MARY LOUISE HARRISON
Thalian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; Bank Cashier '28; Assignment Editor Luminary; Central Botanical Club '28; Intersociety Representative; Story '30.

Mary Louise was always happy, interested in her fellow students, and true to Thalia; making friends, she was able to keep them by her altruistic attitude.

CHARLES M. HART
Crack Company; Crack Platoon; Crack Squad; Rifle Club; Officers Club; Captain R. O. T. C.; Cashier; Boys' High School Club.

Chuck was outstanding in army. He led the crack squad in '29. His sound logic in Boy's Hi make him a host of friends.

DOROTHY LOUISE HARTMAN
Central Art Club; Society of Literature and History.

Dorothy made many friends while at Central. She is to be commended for doing so since she came from another school and Central was strange to her.

FRANCES W. HARVEY
Minerva Literary Society; Managing Editor Luminary; El Circulo Espanol; Central Dramatic Club; Intersociety Representative Declamation '29; "Johnny Get Your Gun"; "Strongheart"; "Man or Mouse"; National Honor Society.

Frances was a wonderful worker and was a girl who excelled in many lines.

OLIVE ANNE HAVIS
Central Olympian Club; Missouri State Letter; Small "C;" Volleyball Team '28, '29, '30; Basketball Team '29, '30; Baseball Team '29, '30; Senior Life Saving; Big "C"; Pillow Top.

Athletic ability combined with true friendliness made her a real sport.

MARGARET BELLE HAWORTH
Delphian Literary Society; President Central Trouvere Club; President Choral Club; Gregg Writers '28, '29; "Mikado"; Pinafore; "Bells of Capistrano"; Bank Cashier '29; Intersociety Representative Extemp. '30.

Margaret was loved by her fellow-students, proving that she deserves her many honors.

CHARLES HEDGES
Another of the many who were not so outstanding in the school, but who got a lot out of their studies because they put a lot into them.

JOE HEMPHILL
Central Franklin Club; Central Botanical Club; Officers Club; Boys' High School Club; Lieutenant R. O. T. C. '30; Editor-in-chief Typographia '30; Crack Squad '28; Crack Platoon '28, '29; Crack Company '28, '29; Rifle Club.
Joe's work in army did not keep him from doing well in other lines.

FLORENCE HERMAN
President German Club; Central Zoological Society.
Florence was a quiet girl with remarkable abilities and she demonstrated these to good advantage.

AMY HERSHEY
Amy was a girl not lacking in enthusiasm, pep or good humor and she made others happy by it.

MARY LOU HERZENSTIEL
President Minerva Literary Society; National Honor Society; Intersociety Representative; Student Council; "Passing of the Third Floor Back"; "Man or Mouse"; Lead in "Johnny Get Your Gun"; Drama Club; "Strongheart."
Her attractiveness and winsome charm of personality have won for Mary Lou an unusual place in the hearts of all who knew her.

STELLA LOUISE HESTER
Choral Club '29, '30; "Pinafore"; "Bells of Capistrano."
A steady, dependable girl, who has many a true friend.

KENNETH MOORE HIBBARD
Central Emerson Club; Spanish Club.
Ken's ready laugh won him the friendship of his club brothers and all those who were associated with him.

CLARENCE NORMAN HIBBARD
Rifle Club; Lieutenant R. O. T. C.
Norman was a hard worker and succeeded in everything he tried. This was shown by his gaining a commission in the army.

ETHEL BERNICE HICKS
Officer Activity Group '28; Girls' High School Club; Central Zoological Society.
We've always respected Ethel because she never pretends to be what she is not.

ELEANOR MARIE HIGGINS
President Delphian Literary Society; National Honor Society; President Central Olympian Club; Luminary Staff; Small "C"; Big "C"; Pillow Top; Missouri State Letter; Senior Life Saving; Manager Swimming; Intersociety Swimming Meet Winner; All-Star Hockey; Championship Baseball.
One of our most prominent exponents of athletics.

HERMAN HIGGINS
Glee Club; "Mikado"; "Pinafore"; "Bells of Capistrano"; Band.
A ready wit plus desire for work "made" Herman.

ELMER L. HILL
President Central Webster Club; Treasurer Boy's High School Club; Central Drama Club; Student Council; Business Manager Luminary; Zoology Club; Third Place Columbia Contest; Bank Cashier; "Strongheart;" "Man or Mouse"; "Johnny Get Your Gun"; Perfect Attendance; Gift Committee; Honor Society.
This little Webster possessed lots of spirit and a personality that made plenty of friends for him.

EVELYN HIPSH

Something sterling that will stay
When gold and silver pass away.

PHILIP T. HITE

Variety is the spice of life. This fellow's jolly pranks made him well-liked about the school but his attitude toward his work speaks louder than words.

FRANKLYN JOSEPH HOAGLAND

Hoagland cut up a lot in most of his classes; we knew him as one who was always ready to do the task assigned to him. We feel sure he will succeed.

WILLIAM HOGAN

Pressman for Luminary.

Bill was invaluable to the Luminary for without him it would be difficult for the "paper to go to press." Besides this, he was always to be counted in on any school activity.

Dear Jack! We suffered through Physics with you but we came out the wiser. I wish you all the luck and happiness because you deserve it!

MINNIE IRENE HOLT

Silver Typing Award '29.

She was equally as good in everything she undertook as she was on the typewriter.

ELIZABETH ANN HOMAN

El Circulo Espanol '29; Student Council '28.

Betty says her hobby is music but we think she could well make it something else from the stir she has caused in many a boy's heart.

CLYDE FROST HOWE

Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Crack Squad; Crack Platoon; Crack Company; Der Deutsche Verein; Make-up man Luminary.

Howe, and how! was his watchword and those who knew him believed it.

LUCILLE ELIZABETH HUHN

Girls High School Club '29.

A careful and interested student who will make her mark in the world as she has at Central.

NORMAN HUNT

Track Squad; Second Team Basketball '29.

Norman's ability in Track and in Basketball won him the friendship and admiration of the athletes.

BEN ELLIOTT HUSBANDS

Student Council; Football '27, '29; Basketball '27, '28 '29; Co-Captain '29; Society of Literature and History; "C" Club; Junior Aid; Boys' High School Club; Senior Ballot: Jolly Good Boy.

In Basketball and Football Ben was always one of the best. The factor behind his power was his fighting spirit.

WILLIAM ILES

We believed he read more books in his young life than anyone else. He just about wore a path between his home and the library.

MAXIME ALBERTA JAGELS

Central Trouvere Club; Silver Typing Award '29; Orchestra.

Maxime is one whom we all respect and for more than just her cheery smile and happy disposition.

DOROTHY RUTH JENKINS
Minerva Literary Society; "Mikado"; Choral Club; Girls' High School Club; Central Gregg Writers.

So jolly and sweet, so fully complete, she steals our affections away.

HELEN ELIZABETH JENNINGS
A friend so sweet, a maid so neat.
To be her friend is quite a treat.

DONALD G. JEPSON
Orchestra; Band; Chorus.

Although this is his first year at Central having come from California, Don has fitted into the work harmoniously. His musical work proves this.

MARY JEAN JONES
Central Art Club; Central Zoological Society.

Her art, ability, and everlasting good humor made her popular among her classmates.

ALMA WINEVA JOHNSON
It has been said that variety is the spice of life. That's why we are glad to have Wineva with us.

LEONARD JAMES JOHNSON
Boys' High School Club; Central Officers Club; Crack Squad '27; Crack Platoon '27; Crack Company '27; Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Luminary Staff; Typographia '27.

Leonard's interest in army is shown by his honors in that subject. He and his Fords were a popular sight.

MILDRED JOHNSON
Central Gregg Writers.

A steady worker is sure to gain success so we know that Mildred will always come out on top.

ALVA E. JORDAN
Alva was never outstanding in his classes but he really took a sincere interest in all of them. It is not always ability that counts, but the effort put forth.

ROBERT C. JUDY
Central Emerson Club.

We didn't get to see much of Bob around school, but he was always ready to help us in the library. He was one of those indispensible "pages" who find everything that is "Not in."

LEONARD E. JUENGLING
German Club.

His work in the art classes will be remembered long after he is gone. He could really draw!

STEPHEN BERNARD KANEY, JR.
Student Council; Boys' Glee Club; Drama Club; Boys' High School Club; "Strongheart"; "Man or Mouse."

His honors show his interest in a variety of school activities. His big work, though, was in the plays, where he always had an important part.

BESSIE KAPLAN
Central Trouvere Club; "Pinafore"; "Bells of Capistrano."

A merry, joyful, little songbird in more ways than one. She was loved by all who were fortunate to know her.

Dear Jack:
Without you I really don't believe the Emerson could have had the same old spirit - Best Wishes Leonard.

VIRGINIA KEEBAUGH
Girls' High School Club.
All that glitters is not gold —neither does all that is gold glitter.

WILLIAM BLAKELEY KEITER
2nd Lieutenant R. O. T. C.
He left us at the mid-year but while he was here he displayed pep and enthusiasm both in army and in his class work.

JAMES EDWARD KEELER
President Central Emerson Club; Intersociety Gold Medal Poem '29; Student Council; Crack Company '30; Perfect Attendance; Luminary Staff; Intersociety Representative. Representative.
Jimmy surely could express himself when it comes to poetry. He was a strong contributor to the Emerson's success in '29.

MARVIN KENDALL
Student Council.
When he set his mind on something he usually accomplished it in a creditable way. His nature gained him many worth while friends.

FRANCES KERN
For character and other qualities, look in the face of the girl herself.

GLENN C. KEOWN
Smiling and jovial, he went about his work making friends with all of those with whom he came in contact. His ability to meet people will push him far in this world.
world.

NAOMI RUTH KELLOGG
Girls' High School Club Cabinet '29, '30; Bank Cashier '30; Central Zoological Society '30.
Naomi's deep sincerity and Christian ideals have made for her an enviable name.

GRACE MARGARET KINCAID
Girls' High School Club '28; Gregg Writers '28; German Club '29, '30; Choral Club '30; Lead in "Bells of Capistrano."
We loved to hear her sing and we are proud to have her as a friend.

HAROLD KINKADE
Captain R. O. T. C.; Captain Rifle Team; American Legion Efficiency Medal '29; Crack Company and Platoon '29; Central Officers' Club '30; Co-Editor-in-Chief Typographia; Boys' High School Club; Captain State Champion Rifle Team.
That Harold was one of the best cadets Central has ever had is proven by his Efficiency Medal.

DONOVAN KING
Donovan's ability at Army won him a non-commissioned officer's warrant. His conscientious work in his other classes won him friends.

ETHEL KING
The making of friends who are real friends is the best token of success in life.

STANLEY J. KEITER
"Honor Bright"; "Egypt Eyes";
The smallest cogs are very important to the efficiency of the machine. Stanley's acting helped put over many of the plays at Central.

BLANCHE P. KLEIMAN
"Strongheart"; Central Dramatic Club. "Once in a Lifetime."

Blanche won herself into our hearts by her friendly spirit and abundance of knowledge.

JANE ELIZABETH KOPPLIN

A strong heart and a winning smile
Have sped for her many a mile.

CARL O. KOPPLIN
Captain of Golf Team.

He may not have been Scotch but he could play the game to perfection. He was given the captaincy of our team this year in view of his ability.

KARL JAMES KLOPFENSTEIN
Zoology Club.

We all like good-looking men, but that isn't the only thing that made us like him. With his other qualities he made an impression that will long be remembered.

M. NORWOOD KLUMPP
Track Squad; "C" Club;

And the way that boy clicked off the half mile was a marvel to the school. It was his strength that brought about many of Central's track victories.

HERMA ELIZABETH KRAUSE
German Club '27, '28, '29; Gold Typing Award.

A girl with real abilities, and one not afraid of work.

WILLIAM KRUEGER

"To be the life of the party" was Bill's motto and he surely lived up to it. It was his good fortune to be able to make friends and to keep them forever

MARY LOUISE KUCHMAN
Choral Club; Central Trouvere Club; "Bells of Capistrano"; "Pinafore"; "Mikado."

We found out from Mary Louise that it's nice to be natural when you're naturally nice. Her friends all admired her for her naturally sweet and cheerful disposition.

HALLIE J. KUPLEN

A gem more pure cannot be found,
Even though we search the world around.

E. MERCEDES LATSHAW
Botany Prize Poem '28; Officer Public Speaking Club.

When Mercedes set about something, she usually attained it—a pleasing orator, good poet, and a lovable girl.

RUTH LAWS
Student Council; Choral Club '27.

She's a little lady with lots of pep,
And the best old sport we've ever met.

JESSE LAWSON

Jesse was no slouch in Army, as was proven when Sergeant awarded him with a commission.

MELBA LAZARUS
Gregg Writers.

No one could help liking Melba for her many good qualities which she was not over-anxious to display but which those who really knew her readily recognized.

ANDREW S. LEONE
Spanish Club.

He went about his work quietly. Nevertheless his record has been one of merit. His friendship has been enjoyed by many of us.

SARA LEVINE

We are glad Sara has a younger sister following in her steps if she is as sweet and likeable as her older sister.

JEROME B. LEWIS
Central Franklin Club; Bank Cashier.

We will often wonder how he understood his Chemistry so well. He certainly could spell off those formulas.

ORVILLE N. LIPSCOMB
Student Council; "C" Club; Track '29.

Orville was pretty small but his legs seemed to be long enough to get down that track in time to win a few points for Central.

MARY ELIZABETH LISTON
Central Zoological Society, Girls' High School Club; Basketball Team '29; Volleyball Team '29.

Not all know of her true worth because she was not over-anxious to display it.

MELVIN C. LONG
Boys' High School Club.

Mel was a tennis enthusiast but he made his enthusiasm more than an idle desire. He has put it to good use in trying to obtain a place on Central's team. That's the kind of stuff that makes success.

GUINEVERE LOWERY

We shall long bear in mind the pleasant thoughts she left behind.

LENNA DEE LORD
Society of Literature and History; "Mikado;" Choral Club; Girls' High School Club; Bank Cashier.

Lenna Dee has proved herself to be a willing worker, a jolly companion, and a faithful friend to all she knew.

EARLE LUCE
Society of Literature and History; Band.

Earl's jolly good nature made hi ma friend to all.

ROBERT C. LUDEWIG

Recognition seems to have evaded him in High School but, with the ability he has displayed here, his career points toward success in the business world.

HAROLD A. LUNDIN
Second Team Football '28; Boy's High School Club.

Harold was an interesting fellow and many remember his work. He did not make friends so easily as some, but those he made are long-lasting.

ORLAND A. LUTHER
Student Council; Perfect Attendance; Bank Cashier.
Orland's interest was in cars. He could always find out what was the matter and ho wto fix it. He's the boy that furnishes Mr. Oldendick with flowers for bleaching.

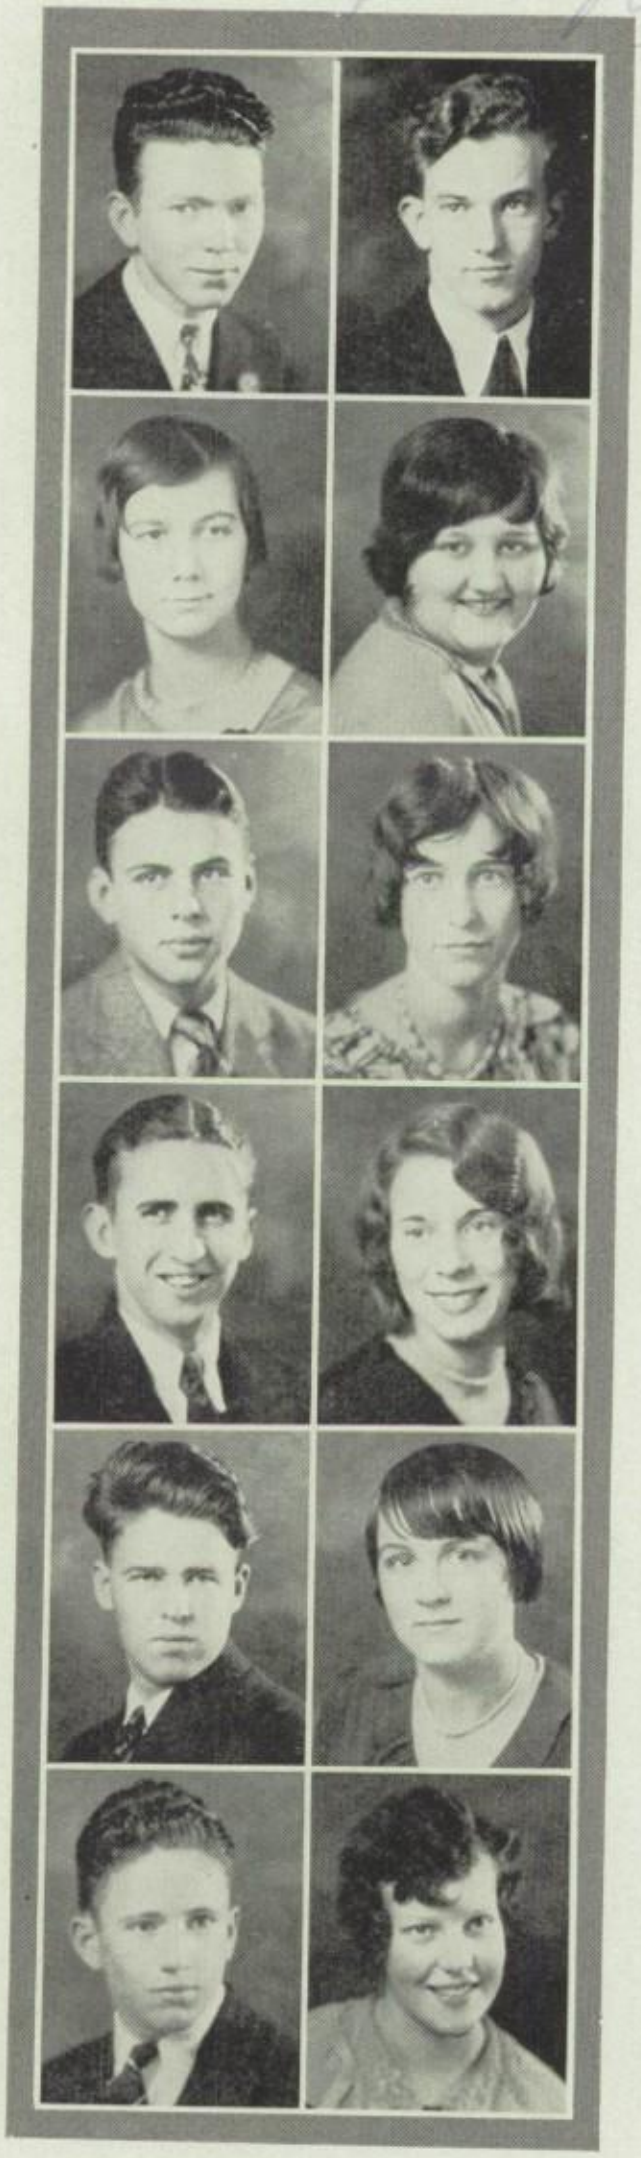
MARGARET LUTHY
Delphian Literary Society; Central Botanical Club; Central Zoological Society; Gift Committee; Baseball Team '28, '29; Intersociety Representative '30.
Maybe all did not realize Margaret's true worth but she was one girl out of many. A jolly and sincere friend.

ROBERT D. LYON
Student Council; Boys' High School Club; Second Team Football '28; Second Team Basketball '28; "Bells of Capistrano"; Glee Club.
Bob surely could dance. He won the hearts of many a young maiden through this medium.

ALBERT MCBRIDE
President of Society of Literature and History; Society of Literature and History; Boys' High School Club; Glee Club; "Mikado"; Art Club; Sergeant-at-Arms of Student Council; Intersociety Representative.
Al was always cutting up but he could settle down and work hard enough to keep in club and be a main cog in the S. L. H. machinery.

JAMES B. MCCARTHY
Boy's High School Club; "Bells of Capistrano."
Jimmie was always ready for a good time. His ability to sing won him a place in the "Bells of Capistrano."

JACK EDWARD MCCONAUGHEY
Central Emerson Club; Student Council; Boys' High School Club; Boys' Senior Editor Centralian; Perfect Attendance; Luminary Staff; Columbia Contest; Intersociety Representative; Honor Society.
No more can be said that he deserved all the honors he won. Jack's interest in many activities and his hard work in all of them made him well known about school.



S. GLEN MCCONNELL
Boys' High School Club.
Glen may have been silent, but he was able to make up for this through his intelligence. We will always wonder how he got through so well with his affliction when we had such a hard time of it.

FRANCES LEE MCCUBBIN
El Circulo Espanol '28.
A genial disposition brings its owner many friends. That's one of the reasons why Frances had so many friends at Central.

MARJORIE E. MCGEE
Girls' High School Club.
Marjorie was interested in deeds, not honors or grades deeds, not honors or grades. She is sure to attain her desires because of her steadfastness of purpose and perseverence.

MARY ROSE MCGEE
"Pinafore"; "Bells of Capistrano"; Choral Club; Perfect Attendance.
Happy and surrounded by many friends. What more could you wish? We are sorry to see Mary Rose go because she was a true friend and an ardent supporter of Central.

EDITH MCINTYRE
A smile cures the wound of a frown. Always happy, yet ever reliable, Edith proved her worth at Central.

ALBERTA A. MCLOUTH
Aristonian Literary Society; Central Botanical Club; Orchestra '28, '29; Girls' High Shool Club; Student Council '28, '29.
More than one appreciated her presence at Central. A pretty, sweet, popular miss whom we hate to see go.

MARTHA MCNAMARA
Thalian Literary Society; Art Club; El Circulo Espanol; Girls' High School Club.
The most that can be said of anyone is that he is a loyal friend—and Martha is this and more.

GEORGE MCREYNOLDS
George was a quiet fellow who walked unseen about the halls. He is one of those fellows who stand up for the school.

ALICE JO MACCABEE
Society of Literature and History; Student Council '28, '30; Bank Cashier; Girls' High School Club.
Alice Jo is glad just for being alive and we are glad to be alive just so we can know her.

THEODORE MADUOROS
Second Team Football '27.
Although Theo was unable to make the first team, while he held a place on the second squad he figured in building up a winning first team for that year.

BESSIE MAGAZINE
Swimming Team.
Bessie has proved that the old quotation that good nature and good sense are usually companions is true for she was unusually good-natured and showed remarkable good judgment at all times.

POLLARD MAGEE
Student Council; Captain R. O. T. C.; Bank Cashier; Central Franklin Club; Vice-President Officers Club; Sharpshooter N. R. A.
In army Pollard's work must have been outstanding as he was appointed adjutant of the Central battalion.

SARAH G. MANDELBAUM
Sarah was interested in tennis and dancing mostly but she managed to make a great number of friends at school through her sweet disposition and loving ways.

RAYMOND BAIRD MALOY
Central Emerson Club; Rifle Team '28; Perfect Attendance; Intersociety Representative.
Ray was quiet but when he was out in the club games, his taciturnity did not stop him from being the terror of the opponents and the pride of the Emersons.

MILDRED MANLEY
Her character is rivaled only by her personality. Not flashy but steady and dependable.

OLIVA MAE MARQUETTE
Girls' High School Club.
Olive Mae could be jolly and yet get down to work when necessary. A true Centralite.

ANASTASIA MARTIN
Minerva Literary Society.
Grace was in all her steps, heaven in her eyes, in every gesture dignity—and love.

DOROTHY MERLE MARTIN
Minerva Literary Society; Sponsor Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Assistant Girls' Senior Editor Centralian; Girls' High School Club; Drama Club; Le Cercle Francais; Bank Cashier; "Man or Mouse;" "Johnny Get Your Gun." Senior Ballot: Best Girl Student; National Honor Society; Intersociety Representative.
Her charm of character and friendly personality have ever made her capable of fulfilling the most difficult task.

JEANNE LAUREL MARTIN
Minerva Literary Society; Central Trouvere Club; Le Cercle Francais; Bank Cashier; Girls' High School Club; Student Council '30.

Jeanne's cheery smile and sunny disposition brightened all the gloomy days. One never saw her when she wasn't happy.

KATHERINE IRENE MARTIN
Minerva Literary Society; German Club.

Katherine was a loyal true friend to everyone—a girl of high ideals and strength of character.

LESTER MARVIN
Bank Cashier.

Lester seemed to get his work well and have a lotta fun at the same time. He certainly did know his U. S. History which is saying a lot.

MARION MATTES
Thalian Literary Society; Managing Editor Luminary; Officer Student Council; President Senior Triangle; Girls' High School Club; El Circulo Espanol; Perfect Attendance; Medal Pinner Central Emerson Club. National Honor Society; President Zoological Club; Senior Flower Committee.

Charm of personality and never-failing understanding of others have given Marion first place in the hearts of her friends.

MILDRED MARY MATTESON
Perfect Attendance.

Mildred was always willing to help and possessed the ability to do so.

LAWRENCE HOFFMAN MAY
Central Art Club; Boys' High School Club; Student Council '29; Luminary Staff.

In art the boy was a whizz bang. His cartoons in the Luminary revealed his ability and his clever ideas. It was too bad he left us at the mid-year.

PAULINE B. MEAD
Central Gregg Writers '29

It somewhere has been said that dependability is the chief of all virtues. Pauline would have been a favorite with the author of that statement.

MARGARET MINNIE MEADOW
Literary Editor Centralian '30; Luminary Staff; Girls' High School Club; Senior Pin and Ring Committee; Typing Award '29; Bank Cashier.

Capable, untiring in her work, and yet a loyal friend to all, Minnie won many friends at Central.

GEORGE E. MENSCH, JR.

George was one of these quiet fellows. It was easy to make a friend of him and once you had earned his acquaintance you could understand why. Central does not often appreciate such Centralites until after they are gone.

DAVIS HENRY MICHELSON
Spanish Club.

This rather little fellow was not seen much around school but he contributed to its activities nevertheless. Worth is not measured by the size of a person.

JOSEPHINE MILLER
Choral Club; "Bells of Capistrano."

Josephine always gave to her teachers and fellow-students all that was in her and that is a great deal.

JOY MINTURN
President Thalian Literary Society; Sponsor Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; El Circulo Espanol; Intersociety Council; Girls' High School Club. Senior Ballot: Jolly Good Girl; National Honor Society.

Truly a rival of the sun for making bright the day. She radiated joy to all and when Joy was a trifle sad we knew that something was really wrong.

THOMAS J. MOHANNA
First Team Football '28, '29; First Team Basketball '28.

Tom's ability to borrow makes him a financial genius. It was on the gridiron that he showed his grit and quick-thinking.

FORREST MOORE
Centralian Staff; Boys' High School Club.

When any one looks at the small drawings in this book they can see why he won a place on the staff. He's big and his worth is in comparison to his height.

BARRETT MOORE
Stage Crew '29, '30.

Here is one of the hardest workers on that invaluable group, the stage crew. Without his help it would have been hard to put over many of the stage productions.

CHARLES MORGAN
Crack Platoon '28; Crack Company '28; Rifle Team; Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Member State Championship High School Rifle Team; Central Rible Team '30.

We had a lotta good men in army this year and Chuck was one of them. He surely did know his army and he made a friend of all under him.

MINNA LOUISE MORGAN
Aristonian Literary Society; President Central Art Club; Assignment Editor Luminary; Girls' High School Club; Perfect Attendance; National Honor Society.

"Bobbie" was a hard worker in all her studies but it is still a marvel to the students how she managed to understand Chemistry well enough to come through with an E plus.

SUZANNE MORGAN
Suzanne was always happy and many found it a pleasure to keep on the lookout for her just to see her pleasant smile.

INA MARIE MORRISON
Centralian Staff.

Whatever she did was done with ease,
In her alone 'twas natural to please.

FIELDING MORROW
Society of Literature and History; Track '29, '30; Second Team Basketball '27; First Team Basketball '28, '29; First Team Football '29; "C" Club; Boys' High School Club.

Mickey was a great fighter. When he was guarding a man he was not likely to do any shooting.

EDWARD MORTON
Tennis Team '29.

Ed was a great tennis player. When his adversary faced him across the net, he knew he was to have a battle, and Ed often won the set for the good of the school.

BEN MOSSEL
Central Orchestra; Minor part "Johnny Get Your Gun"; "Once in a Lifetime."

Ben was a great speaker. He did well both in the dramatic and public speaking lines.

ROSCOE E. MOULTHROP, JR.
It's not always that we find someone who does his work with the same diligence and interest that Roscoe put into whatever he did.

WILLIAM B. MURPHY, JR.
Billy had a notorious reputation around school for not getting his lessons but he worked nights and was still able to keep that jovial mood with which the Irish are especially endowed.

NADINE NAVE
Delphian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club; El Circulo Espanol; Student Council '28; Perfect Attendance.

Happy and cheerful, Nadine was a friend to all but she was especially popular with her Delphian sisters.

HELEN ETHELWYN NAYLOR
Society of Literature and History; El Circulo Espanol '28; Central Art Club.

The thing that goes the farthest towards making life worth while, that costs the least and does the most is just a pleasant smile.

JOHN VINCENT NAYLOR
Society of Literature and History; Student Council; Officers' Club; Captain R. O. T. C.; Rifle Team; Typographia Staff; Crack Squad '27; Crack Platoon '26, '27; Art Club; Spanish Club; Battalion Commander R. O. T. C.

Vincent was a great Army man and in between times he had a lotta crushes.

FREDERICK K. NEEDLES
Throughout Fred's stay at Central he performed all his duties with care and sincerity. His capable, efficient manner won him the praise of not only a few.

CARL A. NELSON
Perfect Attendance; Bank Cashier.

Carl put forth a lot of effort in his work, both in army and his studies. His work here merited attention.

EDNA MAY NETTROUER
Girls' High School Club.

Kindliness and thoughtfulness of the feelings of others and a high standard of ideals were characteristic of Edna's sweet and unselfish disposition.

TURNER A. NEWHAM, JR.
This auburn haired lad was unsurpassed in his adeptness in mathematics and had a ready wit.

DONALD A. NICHOALDS
Boys' High School Club.

Don may not have been so loud in proclaiming what he knew, but this did not stop him from successfully accomplishing most of the things he attempted.

VIRGINIA ELIZABETH NIEBRUGGE
Girls' High School Club; Gregg Writers '28; National Honor Society.

Although of a quiet nature, there were treasures hidden within her and those who were fortunate to know her well were glad for the opportunity.

CHARLES E. NELSON
His wit kept the Public Speaking class in a continual uproar. Nevertheless, all that he did was well done.

THELMA M. NOLAN
"Let me live in a house by the side of the road and be a friend to man." Thelma was indeed a loyal friend and was happy if she could be of some use to her fellow students.

KATHRYN O'BRIEN
She's a jolly good fellow,
So happy and so wise,
With a song on her lips,
And a smile in her eyes.

HAROLD OHLKE
Crack Company '28; Crack Platoon '28; Second Team Football '29.

We can say of Harold that he did his best in all he tried, and with no little success. He was always ready for a good time at the right time.

ELIZABETH OLIVER
Girls' High School Club; Central Zoological Society.

She may never set the world on fire, but she has fixed in the school a place for herself which will last.

JOHNNIE CHRISTIAN OLSEN
Perfect Attendance.

One good look at Johnnie could satisfy you that he was a real fellow. We wouldn't be surprised to see him in the movies some day as a handsome hero.

MARY JEANNE O'NEIL
Girls' High School Club; "Man or Mouse;" Student Council '28, '29; Bank Cashier '28, '29; Central Zoological Society.

A winning way, attractive face. Ambition fits her for any place.

ALICE MAE OSBORNE

It is indeed an admirable quality to show the interest and willing spirit so characteristic of Alice Mae. Those with such an attitude are invaluable to Central.

MARIANNE OSTERGARD
El Circulo Espanol; Orchestra; Girls' High School Club.

She is quiet and businesslike but with a ripple of jollity and fun underneath which makes her a favorite in the classroom as well as among her friends.

ARTHUR OTHICK
Second Team Football '28, '29.

Arthur was one of the reserves that helped to develop our championship teams. He didn't have to have a lead before he would work.

EVELYN OXLEY
Society of Literature and History.

She is clever and capable but the pleasant part about it is that she lets you find it out for yourself.

MARY LOUISE PARIS
President Society of Literature and History; Olympian Club; Girls' Rifle Team; Choral Club; Manager Basketball; Basketball, Baseball; Volleyball; Hockey; Small "C"; Big "C"; Zoological Club; "Bells of Capistrano"; "Pinafore"; Luminary Pillow-Top; Intersociety Council; Slache Medal Pinner.

Her many honors prove that she has made a success of High School.

RUTH PARMENTER
President Thalian Literary Society; President Central Art Club; Girls' High School Club; Student Council '29, '30; Central Zoological Society; German Club; National Honor Society; Luminary Staff.

Ruth was always smiling, eager to help, and solicitous of others, leaving a fine record behind her.

NED PATTERSON
Perfect Attendance.

He was an extremely quiet fellow, but his actions and attitude towards school life have spoken for him.

JOHN E. PAXTON
President Central Emerson Club; Advertising Manager Luminary; Silver Medal Essay Intersociety; Treasurer Student Council; Second Team Basketball '29; "Once in a Lifetime;" Inters. Rep.; Honor Society.

John's versatility has made him outstanding among his classmates.

HELEN PEACOCK
Girls' High School Club; Typing Awards.
This little lady is destined by fate, ever to love and never to hate.

DONALD PEARMAN
Don was a whizz-bang in most of the things that he undertook. One of these was Chemistry, in which not so many of us excel.

GEORGE HERBERT PEEPER
Boys' High School Club; Central Webster Club.
Herb was a real Boys' High member. He not only attended the regular meetings but was almost always present at the early morning meetings.

WOODROW W. PENNINGTON, JR.
Central Franklin Club; Boys' High School Club; Student Council; Zoology Club.
Here's a fellow who was always on the go. He got into a lot of devilment but never too deep.

MARGUERITE B. PERCY
Central Botanical Club.
She was never one to put herself before the public eye; to those who have won her confidence, she shows a delightful charm of manner and cheerfulness of disposition.

EDNA G. PERKINS
Orchestra; Trouvere Club; Botany Committee; Central Zoological Club.
She was envied by all for her dignity, poise, and lovable disposition.

RAYMOND PETERSON
Spanish Club; Boys' High School Club.
He was always on the job to do whatever was asked. Another of the real supporters of Boys' High, he helped other people by his example.

HELEN PETTIT
Central Olympian Club; Senior Life Saving; Manager Hike; Class Leader; Hockey Team '28, '29; Volleyball Team '28; Girls' High School Club.
Popular with her classmates and always ready for a good time, we can't forget Helen. She always upheld the ideals of true sportsmanship.

LORRAINE PHELPS
You like her when you see her, but you like her still better when you know her.

VIRGIL JAMES PHILLIPS
Orchestra.
We could always say of Virgil that he was conscientious in his work, and in this manner he won the esteem of a great many of us.

ALICE LUCILE PIERCE
Senior Life Saving; Hockey Team; Girls' High School Club; Central Zoological Society.
We've been told that she is one who always makes you have some fun, but still she seems to get things done.

EUGENE M. POND
He undoubtedly could keep a close check on things or else he would not have made a success of his duty of supply lieutenant in the R. O. T. C.

JOHN W. PORTER
Pin and Ring Committee; Alternate Cheerleader; Student Council; Boys' High School Club.

He was always ready with a laugh and a joke; both won him a great following.

ROBERT E. PORTER
Society of Literature and History.

Bob played a game with his lessons. If he could get them, all right. If not, all right. But he filled his time with activity.

LOUIS R. PROBST
Louie had a hobby that few knew about. This was the liking for pets. Anyone who visited his back yard would be sure to see any number of rabbits, ducks, guinea pigs, of anything else he happened to have at the time.

PAULINE LOUISE PROPER
Central Trouvere Club; "Mikado;" "Pinafore;" "Bells of Capistrano."

Louise was admired and liked by all who knew her for her sunny disposition and cheerful manner.

FRANKLIN J. PUGH
President Central Emerson; Senior Ballot: Best Boy Student; Honor Society; President Central Art Club; Boys' High School Club; Assistant Circulation Manager Centralian '29; Assistant Boys' Senior Editor, Centralian '30; Bronze Medal Latin; Luminary Staff; First R. O. T. C. Poster Contest '28; Student Council; Drama Club.

He made friends as easily and as well as he drew; that's saying a lot, but not nearly enough.

MABEL QUALLS
Mabel endeared herself to the hearts of many at Central and her schoolmates will always think of her among their high school memories.

MARY LOUISE QUIETT
Thalian Literary Society; Central Trouvere Club; Girls' High School Club; Choral Club; "Mikado;" "Pinafore;" Bank Cashier; Luminary Staff; National Honor Society; Intersociety Representative Essay.

We shall remember her as a girl willing to work and yet one who was always ready for a good time.

JACK W. RADTKE
The friends he made here will help him throughout his entire career. Many fine qualities helped Jack to make a success of his work in school.

MAYER RASHBAUM
Mayer had plenty of brain-power if his report cards were to be believed; but it was hard work that pushed him along. Mayer was a friend to anybody and everybody.

JOHN CLARENCE RAY
By the work we know the workman. So we know that whatever work was undertaken by John was well done.

FRANCIS M. REDBURN
Sergeant R. O. T. C.; Member of N. R. A., J. R. C.; Crack Company R. O. T. C.

Francis was good at R. O. T. C., but that didn't keep him from making a big mark on the rest of the school's history.

MARY CATHERINE REDINGER
El Circulo Espanol.

How often we hear the name Mary! Yet, each time it signifies a different style, a different girl — of all Marys we shall certainly remember Mary Catherine.

ROBERT L. REYNOLDS
Stage Crew '29.

There were certain people about school who could be seen and seldom heard, but who, nevertheless, were essential to the school's activities. Bob was one of those who were always supporting the blue and white.

LAURA MARGARET RICHARDS
Central Olympian Club; Baseball Team '28; Small "C;" Hockey Team '28, '29; Basketball Team '28; Volleyball Team '28.

A smile will go a long, long way and Margaret spread joy wherever she went because of her sunny and likeable disposition.

MILDRED RICHARDS
Girls' High School Club.

She will give the world no cause to harbor a grudge against her because of what she is and stands for.

WYATT CLIFFORD RILEY
Sergeant R. O. T. C.; Member N. R. A., J. R. C. C.; Crack Platoon '28, '29; Crack Company '28.

Clifford must have been deeply interested in army, from the honors listed here. He made a success of it, as he did in everything else.

J. LAWRENCE RINGWALT
Central Franklin Club; Boys' High School Club.

A tennis player and a friend, he was good at both; but we all know that he made a very good friend to us.

JULIA CHARLINE ROBINSON
Minerva Literary Society; Luminary Staff; Girls' High School Club; Student Council '28, '30; El Circulo Espanol; Gregg Writers '29; Botanical Club '29; "Once in a Lifetime" Drama Club; Senior Entertainment Committee.

When Judy was there everyone had a good time for a party wasn't a party without her. She had an unusual charm of personality and character.

EDWARD ROCKWELL
Student Council.

A ready word and hearty laugh were Eddie's biggest assets. He and his motorcycle were a familiar sight around school.

SARA ROLSKY

Common sense is as valuable to most of us as the talents of a genius are to the few who claim them. The former is said to be rare, but Sara has it in abundance.

LILLIAN ROSENSTEIN
Typing Certificate.

She's rather quiet, and oh, so sweet; as a friend to you, she can't be beat.

SAM ROSS
Orchestra; Trouvere Club.

Sam could certainly play his instrument. He was not behind in his class work or any other activity he entered.

JESSE W. ROYER
Central Franklin Club; Zoological Club.

Jesse made a hit with everyone, especially with the girls. He could be seen any afternoon in the library quite surrounded by the fair sex.

RUTH H. RUBIN
Girls' High School Club; Central Botanical Club; Le Cercle Francais; Central Dramatic Club; "Three Graces;" "Man or Mouse."

An able dramatist, a true friend, and a loyal Centralite, she graced our halls and was liked by all.

FRANCIS JO RUSSELL
Minerva Literary Society; Managing Editor Luminary; Central Trouvere Club; Girls' High School Club; Student Council '29, '30; Orchestra '28, '29; Choral Club '28, '29.

Frances Jo was another of our hard-working managing editors. She was always ready for fun and besides that, she could really sing.

EDWARD J. RYAN
President Society of Literature and History; Intersociety Representative '29; National Honor Society.

"Always be ready to do what you can, but do it good," was Ed's philosophy of life. He was a real asset to the school.

MAX ERNEST SANDER

He filled a place in school fitting only to his character. A conscientious worker, he filled his appointed tasks to the best of his ability.

ALICE SAPAROW
Le Cercle Francais.

A girl whose talents were not known to most of us but a rare student and a true friend.

DOROTHY EDNA SCOTT
Central Olympian Club.

She didn't have much to say but it was enough to look at her and know what was in her heart.

VIRGINIA MAE SCOTTEN
Minerva Literary Society; Central Art Club.

Charming, cute, and smart, this little hint of Paris dazzles and vamps.

JOSEPHINE MARY SCHANZ
El Circulo Espanol; Girls' High School Club; Gold Medal Typing; Silver Medal Typing.

She flies over the keys of her typewriter, bringing the school success and honor.

ALBERT U. SCHMIDT
Stage Crew '28, '29, '30; Track '28, '29.

His straightforward, likeable manner made him a friend of all. His valuable work behind the curtain helped put over many of the school productions.

MARIAN SCHMIDT
Assistant Ad Manager Centralian '29; Drama Club; Trouvere Club; "Man or Mouse;" "Strongheart;" "Johnny Get Your Gun;" "Bells of Capistrano;" Senior Amusement Committee.

Too much could not be said about Marian; witty as they come, smart when need be, and ready to work or play.

MILTON C. SCHNEE
Boys' High School Club.

Here is one not spoken of so much, but known about the school as a good fellow; and he lived up to his reputation admirably.

ROSE SCHWARTZ
Delphian Literary Society; Zoological Club; Girls' High School Club; Gregg Writers; Luminary Staff; El Circulo Espanol.

Another one whom we hate to see go, a wonder on the typewriter, a good worker, a classy dresser, and a true friend.

MARGUERITE SCHULDT
Girls' High School Club.

Truly a sweet girl, whose qualities were appreciated by many, both teachers and students.

EUGENE E. SCHULTZ
German Club; Art Club; Second Team Basketball.

The school could not get along without a few fellows like Gene. He was a friend to everybody.

SHIRLEY CHRISTINE SELLERS
Central Art Club; Girls' High School Club; Perfect Attendance; "Mikado;" "Pinafore;" "Bells of Capistrano;" Choral Club.

Shirley was interested in her work and eager to do what she could for Central.

EDWARD E. SEXTON
Orchestra; Band.

His interest in music and his sincere attitude to the rest of his work made his an attendance here worth while to the school.

DOROTHY MAY SHANAHAN

Not just another Dorothy but quite an unusual one with traits sufficient to insure scores of friends and admirers.

ELIZABETH K. SHANNON
Aristonian Literary Society; Girls' High School Club '28, '29, '30; Cabinet Girls' High School Club '30; Frances Scarritt Hanly Scholarship; Intersociety Representative Essay '30.

We almost forget that Elizabeth has a hindrance uncommon to the rest of us. She is a deep thinker and as fine a girl as could be found anywhere.

ROSE SHAPIRO

Rose was never one to court the praises of her classmates, but she won the admiration and sincere respect of all who knew her.

GEORGE PORTER SHARP, JR.
Boys' High School Club; Central Franklin Club; Bank Cashier; Student Council '27, '28.

George was another who was many a maiden's suppressed desire; but he was admired and liked by the fellows as well.

GEORGE SHEPARD

George did most of the things he wanted to do but he did them so well that he won the praise and friendship of a great many.

LETA JUANITA SHEPHERD
El Circulo Espanol; Drama Club; Art Club.

She is one of those capable, dependable girls who never fail to do what is expected of them and do it well. A rare type.

GLADYS FRANCES SHARTS

A charming way and a simple but attractive manner has this little maid who says she delights in reading.

HARRIETTE ESTHER SHERWOOD
Thalian Literary Society; Le Cercle Francais; Girls' High School Club; Silver Medal Poem Intersociety '29; Student Council '29; Luminary Staff; Intersociety Representative '30; National Honor Society.

A true daisy, holding in her heart sunshine of purest gold. Harriette was indeed a wonderful girl and will long be remembered by us all.

CLARA LOUISE SHOUSE

Whether in study or in fun, she is ever sincere and optimistic toward everyone; when things seem to be wrong, a helpful person to have around.

Dear Jack:
I've surely valued your friendship and I hope we always can be as much fun as we have this year.
Best of luck,
Harriette

LLOYD A. SIEBERT
Central Drama Club.
The mechanical side of life seemed to lure this fellow. His sincere interest in this kind of work should be an asset to him later.

LEONA PEARL SKAGGS
Not only because Leona's hobby is sewing will she make some lucky man a fine wife. She is likable in every respect — good-natured,, cheerful, and jolly.

MARGUERITE SMEAD
El Circulo Espanol; Girls' High School Club; Central Dramatic Club.
Her charming mien and modest style, her pleasant manner and winsome smile from all of us our love beguile.

GEORGE SMETZER
First Team Football '29; Central "C" Club.
Whenever the quarterback called upon George to do anything, he was always in there fighting.

LEONARD N. SMITH
Orchestra '27, '28, '29.
Between his school work and his interest in music, Leonard had plenty to do. However, he did it all well. Playing at Boys' High School dinner was one thing to keep him busy.

LOIS SMITH
Girls' High School Club; Hockey Team '30; Junior Life Saving '28; Senior Life Saving.
Lois is a mighty fine and pleasant girl to know and was admired and respected by all Central.

R. E. SMITH, JR.
Boys' High School Club; C Man Track '28, '29, '30; Second Team Football '28; Captain Track Team '30; Senior Invitation Committee; Student Council; Central Art Club; Central Franklin Club.
He was a great track man, yet was equally great in all else he tried.

DESA LEE SNELL
Hockey Team '28, '29; Basketball Team '28, '29; Volleyball Team '28, '29; Baseball Team '28, '29; Swimming Team '28, '29; All-Star Basketball Team '29; All-Star Baseball Team '28; Small "C."
As sure an aim, as stout an arm
As ever saved the score from harm.

GLADYS NADINE SNORGRASS
Central Zoological Society; Girls' High School Club.
Thought is deeper than all speech;
Feeling deeper than all thought.

PETER LEUZLER
Pete was friendly to all who came in contact with him and gave his problems the study necessary.

RAYMOND R. SPANGLER
This big lad had his fun in school but did not let it interfere with his work. He showed talent in the art class.

LELAND SPARKS
Society of Literature and History; Boys' High School Club; Photographer Centralian; Intersociety Representative.
Leland was outstanding when it came to taking pictures, as is evidenced by the book's snapshots. We can say the same in almost all the things he took up.

CLARENCE SPENCER
First Team Football '28, '29; Central "C" Club.

Spence was the jolliest fellow in school and he made friends with most of us by his good nature.

HERBERT D. SPEYER

Herby was not known to all of us but to those that did know him he was a friend for life. He was always jolly and ready for any fun that could be had.

ETHEL LILLIAN STAHL
Minerva Literary Society; Trouvere Club; National Honor Society.

Ethel's work was always of the best and her grades were excellent. She was popular alike with students and teachers.

FRANCES STALMAN

A fine companion, a friend to all, and a girl who took an interest in everything—that's Frances.

MARTIN STEIN
Gold Medal Columbia Contest.

We will often wonder how he ever got through all the math he took and was good enough in it to win a gold medal down at Columbia.

DALE GOODSON STENTZ
Vice-President Student Council; Society of Literature and History; Vice-President Boys' High School Club; Band; Glee Club; Student Council '28; '29, '30; Luminary Staff; Drama Club.

He has made life-long friends of most of us and he has helped the Slaches to win their place in school.

DONALD S. STEPHENS
"Mikado," '27; Band; Orchestra; Trouvere Club '27, '28, '29, '30; Student Council '27, '28; Glee Club '28; Drum Major.

Don must have known his music or he would not have been chosen drum major. It isn't only the ability to strut that counts.

ROBERT N. STEWART

Energetic in all that he did, Mr. Williams recognized his ability when he made Bob his right-hand man in the laboratory work.

MAURINE STEWART

Maurine was always bright and happy, logical and clever, and true blue.

LOUIS J. STEYAERT

Louis was able to make a good score when he stepped up to the firing line. This characteristic held true in everything else he undertook.

STANLEY S. STOELTZING
Co-Captain Football '29; First Team Football '27, '28, '29; All-Star Football '28, '29; Track '27, '28, '29; Basketball '29; Vice-President "C" Club; Second Team Basketball '28.

Stan was one of the mainstays on the football team and the basketball team lost a great guard in him at the mid-year.

JANICE MAURINE STOREY
Society of Literature and History; Manager Baseball; Bank Cashier; All-Star Baseball Team '28, '29; All-Star Hockey Team '30; National Honor Society.

She's the kind of a girl to be fun-loving and peppy, with an understanding of others that won her many friends.

JEANNE MARIE STOREY
Manager Soccer; Student Council; All-Star Baseball Team '28, '29; All-Star Hockey Team '30.

Jolly and sweet with a cheerful disposition and charm of manner that placed her high in the hearts of her friends.

ELIZABETH M. STRATTON
President Thalian Literary Society; Associate Editor Centralian; National Honor Society; Intersociety Representative '29, '30; Officer Le Cercle Francais; Feature Editor Luminary; Gregg Writers; Senior Announcement Committee.

Betty possessed many fine qualities—unusual scholastic ability, powers of leadership, and cheerfulness of disposition.

EDGAR HARBER STRONG
Central Franklin Club; Boys' High School Club; Student Council '28; Bank Cashier '27; Senior Ballot: Beau Brummel.

He didn't keep his grades up well enough to stay in the Franklins but he was always with them in spirit.

HAL SURFACE, JR.
Central Webster Club '28; "C" Man Tennis, '29, '30; Tennis Team '28, '29, '30; Perfect Attendance; "C" Club '28, '29, '30; Finalist Interscholastic '28; Semi-Finalist Interscholastic '29.

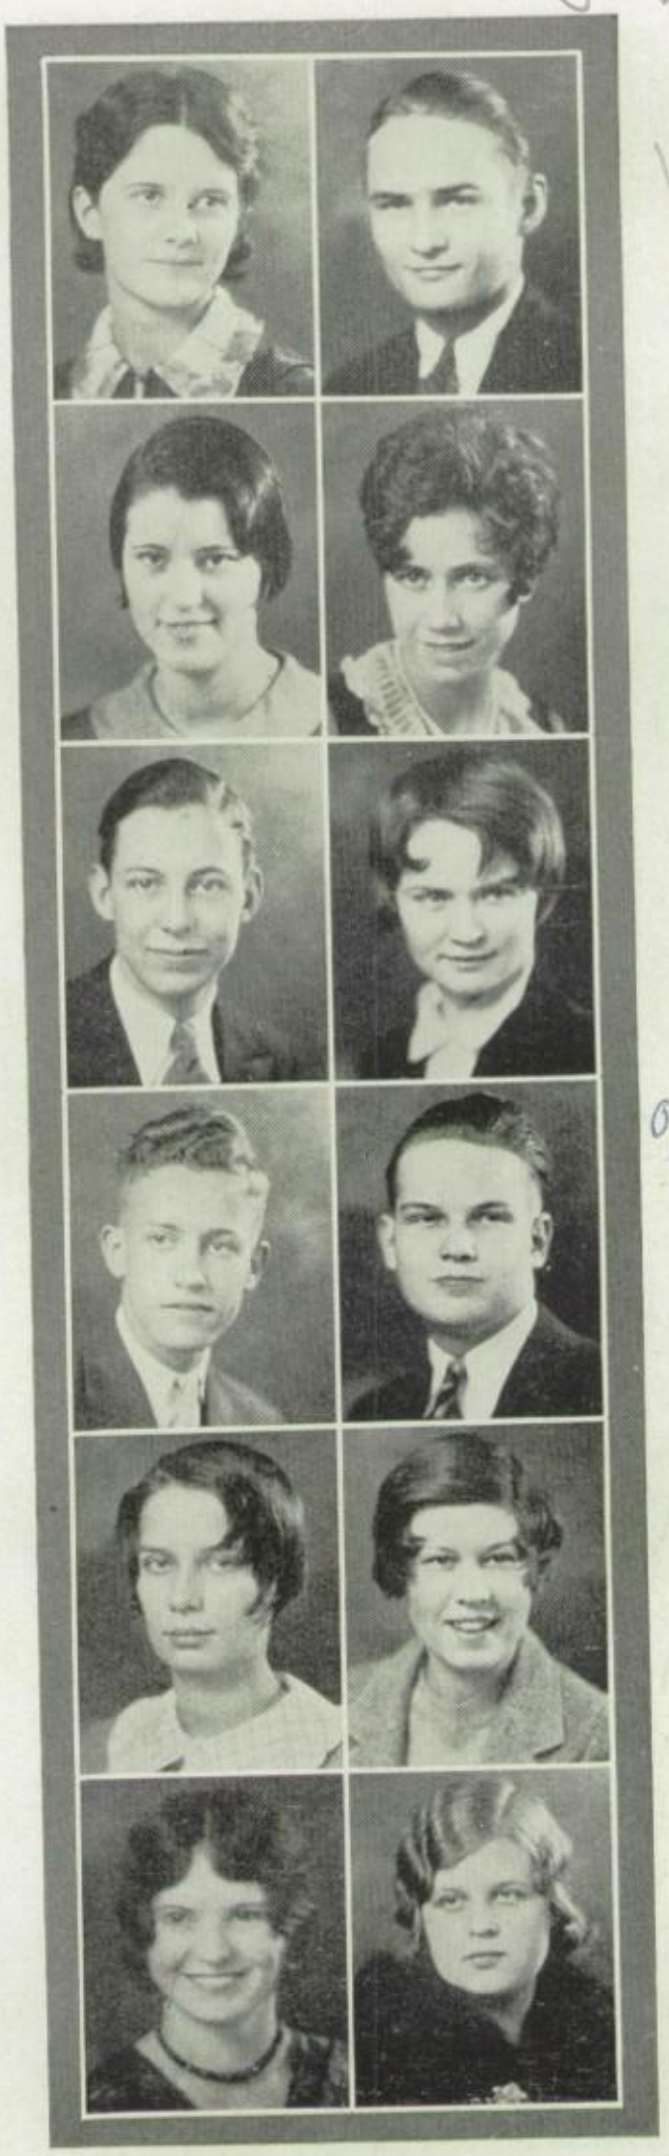
Hal was a keen tennis player. We expect him to do well in national competition some day.

EVELYN L. TAYLOR
Delphian Literary Society. Intersociety Rep. '30.

A girl who's ever in for fun and yet is a student. She's jolly but always seems to be careful, wise and prudent.

THELMA ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Girls' High School Club.

Willingness to work and to accomplish much have distinguished Thelma during her stay at Central.



MAX TIFF
Trouvere Club.

Max didn't have much time for studying as he was working hard on his music but he surely could play as was shown when he played over the radio.

MARY MADELINE TOUSLEY
President Delphian Literary Society; Central Olympian Club; Manager Hockey; Senior Life Saving; Big "C;" Intersociety Swimming Team; All-Star Hockey Team; Basketball Team; All-Star Volleyball Team; All-Star Baseball; All-Star Pinkick; Swimming Team; National Honor Society.

She not only excelled in athletics but was an earnest worker and popular with her classmates.

HELEN LOUISE TRASK
Aristonian Literary Society; President Girls' High School Club; President Central Art Club; Student Council '30; Le Cercle Francais; Luminary Staff; Senior Entertainment Committee.

The ability to dream, combined with the ability to work have gone to make to one of the best liked personalities at Central.

DEAN WHITCOMB TUCKER
Boys' High School Club; Society of Literature and History; Spanish Club; Orchestra '28, '29; Band '28.

Dean was good enough to play in one of the best orchestras in town. It wasn't only his ability to secure low rates for us that made him our friend.

DOLORIS VASHOLZ
President Minerva Literary Society; President El Circulo Espanol; Managing Editor Luminary; Girls' High School Club; Gregg Writers; Bronze Medal Intersociety '29; Intersociety Representative '30; Student Council; Gold Medal Spanish; National Honor Society; Senior Ballot: Best Girl Orator.

Toots was one out of many—an excellent student, an ardent worker, and a fun-loving girl.

MARIAN RUTH VAUGHN
"Mikado;" "Pinafore."

Music hath charms to soothe the most savage beast. A general favorite of the girls and boys was Marian.

DOROTHY L. VENABLE
Aristonian Literary Society; Central Dramatic Club; Bank Cashier.

Dot will always remain in our hearts as a sweet and lovable girl.

DENA VOGEL
She's very independent, her thoughts are really rare, but in her love and friendship eveyone may share.

MARGARET LOUISE VON ENGELN
Gregg Writers '29.

A creature not too bright or good,
For human nature's daily food;
For transient sorrows, simple wiles
Praise blame, love, kisses, tears and smiles.

DOROTHY M. WAGNER
Delphian Literary Society; El Circulo Espanol.

Dorothy's peppy and full of fun—
This you can see by the friends she's won;
And the fact that she's liked by everyone.

FRANCES ANN WALLENDORFF
Toward success she will ever steer,
Never lets anything interfere.

JOHN FREDRICK WALSMAN
Golf Team.

Golf has never been a major sport at Central. Nevertheless, those who competed in this sport deserve recognition. To Fred, this should be given unlimitedly.

FRANCES LOUISE WANSCH
Not too large,
Not too small;
But sweet and peppy,
And liked by all.

HAZEL A. WARDEN
Aristonian Literary Society; President Le Cercle Francais; Gregg Writers; Student Council '28, '29.

A girl blessed with beauty, love, and happiness. She will never be forgotten.

G. KRAMER WASGIEN
President Central Franklin Club; Treasurer Boys' High School Club; Student Council; First Team Football '28, '29; Second Team Football '27; Central "C" Club; Stage Crew '28, '29; Drama Club; Bank Cashier.

His ability was recognized on the field as well as in the club.

EMMA EATON WASHER
Emma has been loyal to her friends all through her high school career and deserves much credit.

a fella what hopes to know you better and oftener.
Gordon Wayman

GORDON S. WAYMAN, JR.
Central Emerson Club.

A sincere attitude toward everything he undertook made us realize the worth of his character. He was a real fellow.

NATHAN WEDLANSKY
Second Team Football '28.

He had plenty of self-confidence, yet not too much of it. What better could be said about him?

RUTH WEINBERG
Choral Club.
Lovable and sweet, hard to beat;
Everyone knows her and likes her a heap.

JOHN WELCH
Boys' High School Club.
Honest labor means good work. John's labor was honest and was always good. His attitude made Central better for his being here.

WILLIAM WELLS
Second Team Football '28; First Team Football '29; Central "C" Club.
Bill made the second team last year and then came back this year to make the first. He made both better by his knowledge of football.

JOHN A. WELTY
Spanish Club.
John surely could express himself when it comes to Spanish. He was a strong contributor to the success of the club.

HEIMIE WENECH
He seems to have gone through Central with as little amount of worry as possible. However he always came through with a job well done.

MARGARET ALICE WEST
Of study took she most care and heed,
Not a word spoke she more than there was need.

SHELBY C. WEST
He was always ready for a good time, but he could write in a free style that proved that he was more than just a fun-maker.

ROBERT G. WESTLAKE
Central Franklin Club; Orchestra; Band; Trouvere Club; Perfect Attendance.
Bob studied hard and won his reward, friends, honors and ultimate success. He leaves Central the better for his having been here.

ELAINE WESTROPE
"Pinafore."
Elaine had many friends and is deserving of them because of her fine qualities.

BRUCE WHITTAKER
His square jaw indicates a determination that will carry him a long ways in the world. Perseverance is one of the essentials for success laid down by business men.

HELEN WHITTAKER
President Delphian Literary Society; Intersociety Representative '29, '30; Student Council '28, '29, '30; Girls' High School Club; Luminary Staff; National Honor Society.
She was a conscientious and diligent worker, yet never a word of self-laudation left her mouth at Central. Therefore, we take the pleasure to confer this well-deserved praise.

RICHARD K. WHITE
German Club; Central Emerson Club.
Although he didn't get into club until late, he won many friends and proved his worth.

ROSALIND WIDER

Quiet at times, lively at other times; yet to those who knew her, a lovely girl with a deep feeling for her friends.

JOHN JAY WIGGENS

Band; Orchestra; Trouvere Club.

We had a lot of musicians in school but John ranked among the best.

DOROTHY WILLARD

Kind o' friendly
And true blue,
Kind o' quiet
Smiling, too;
Kind o' girl
You're glad you knew.

HOWARD WILLEY

Trouvere Club.

"Music is food for the soul." If this quotation is true, Howard will help the world to attain a larger share of happiness.

JAMES M. WILLIAMS

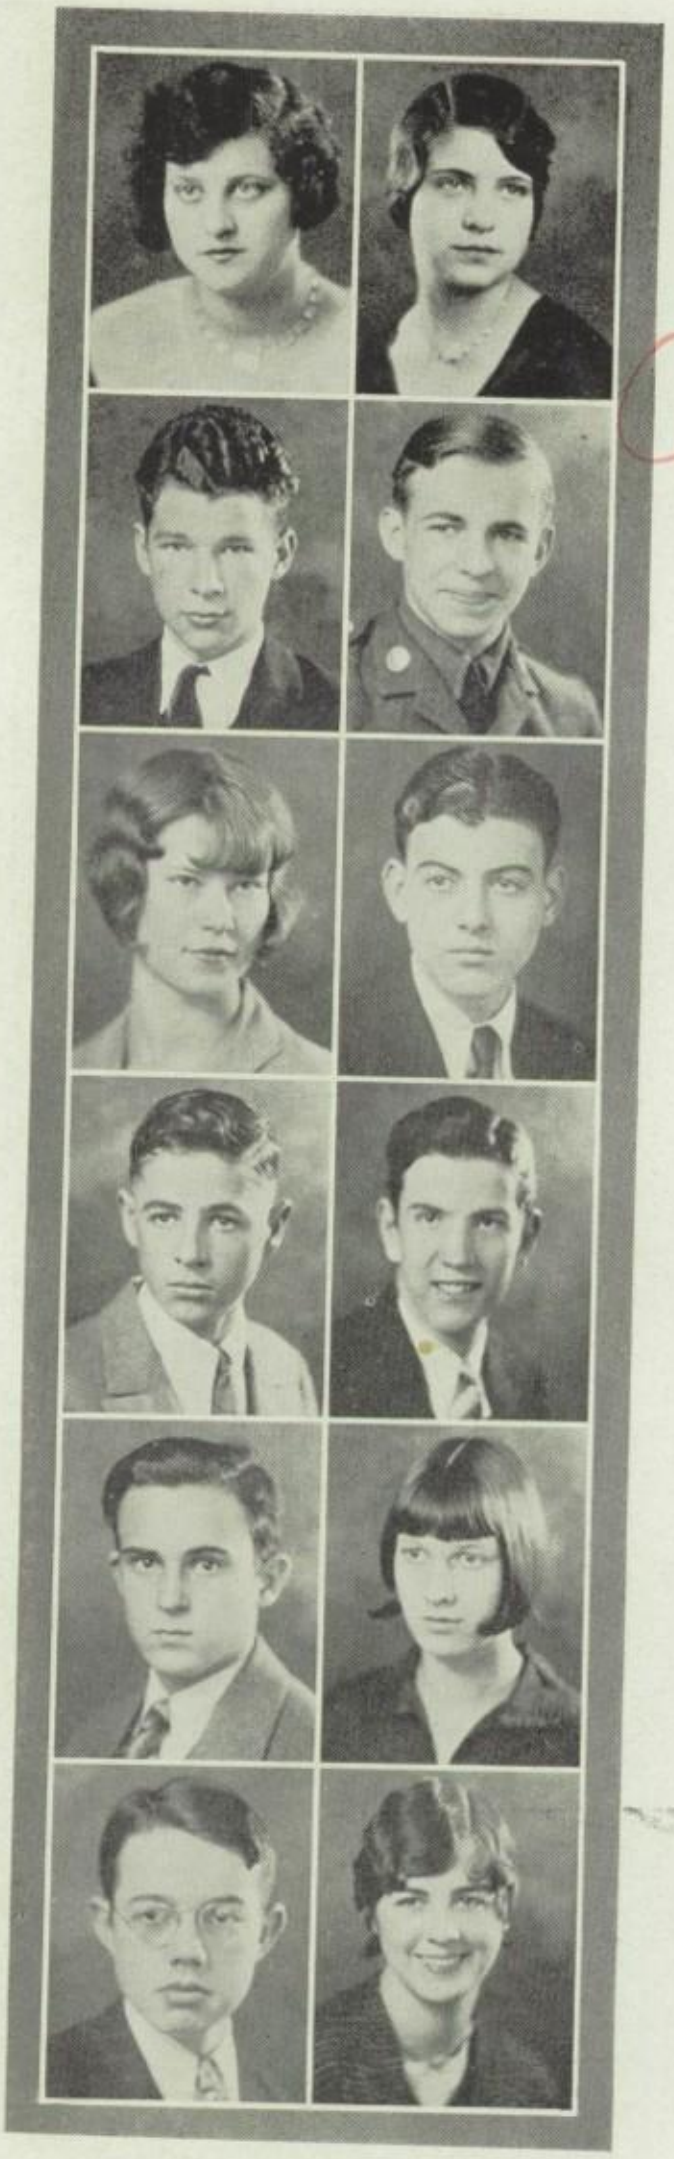
Student Council '29, '30; Spanish Club.

He was one of those efficient young men whose work proved extremely valuable in the printing department.

F. MAX WILLIAMS

Orchestra.

Max's ready humor was not lacking of friends. He also put his energies into the musical line by playing in the orchestra.



VIVIAN WILLIAMS

Perfect Attendance; Bank Cashier '28, '29.

She's so good and fine and true;
Sweeter girls than she are few.

Dear Jack: We always to have and always will be, good friends, I hope, in spite of women. Yours, Don

DONALD EDWIN WILSON

"Johnny Get Your Gun;" Stage Crew '29, '30.

It is hard to remember a time when Don was quiet and untalkative, and no one wants to think of him that way. He needed no one to help him be cheerful.

WILLIAM F. WILSON

Life is made up of all types of people, each making life interesting. Bill did about as he pleased, but when he was working on something on which he was interested, one could be sure of a good job.

MORGAN WINSBOROUGH

Not noticed so much around school, this tall fellow won the liking and respect of all he met. His classmates were benefitted by his companionship.

ARVELLA WOODROME

Arvellia possessed a jolly and sweet disposition and was so fully complete in herself that she stole our affections away.

ESTHER MARIE WRIGHT

Thalian Literary Society; Cabinet Girls' High School Club; Central Art Club; Student Council; "Mikado;" Orchestra '30.

Esther was loved by all for her sweetness of manner and beauty of character. She was one we would have liked to have known better.

EARL JOHN WYNNE
Spanish Club.

Although he was quiet his grades speak for the effort he put forth in his studies. His courteous manner made him well-liked by everybody.

THOMAS YOUNGER
First Team Football '29; Second Team Football '27.

Tom went into the game when Harbaugh got hurt. We can say that he filled the place admirably.

JOE YUDKOFSKY
Business Manager Centralian; Second Place Constitution Oration; Senior Ballot: Best Boy Orator; Central Franklin Club; Junior Aide; Secretary Boys' High School Club; Amusement Committee; Intersociety Representative; Luminary Staff.

Joe's ability was recognized when he was chosen as the school's representative in oration.

JUNIOR ZESKEY
President Central Emerson Club; Managing Editor Luminary; President German Club; National Honor Society; Student Council '29; Glee Club '28, '29, '30; "Mikado;" "Pinafore;" Bank Cashier '29, '30; Boys Quartette '29; Drama Club; Boys' High School Club.

Junior's personality and his participation in school activities distinguished him as a leader in Central

HAYDEN ZIMMERMAN
Cabinet Boys' High School Club; Central Franklin Club; Crack Company '28; Crack Platoon '28; Senior Invitation Committee; Assistant Cheerleader '30; Student Council '29; Intersociety Rep.; Bank Cashier.

With a pleasing laugh and ready tongue he was always to be found where enjoyment was most important.

WILLIAM E. ZIMMERMAN
"Strongheart."

Whenever Bill made a friendship he kept it. He was a conscientious worker and always had his lessons, but he was ever ready to join in on any fun that happened to come his way.

ESTHER ZITZERMAN
Pinkick Team '28; Volleyball Team '28; Baseball Team '28, '29; Hockey Team '29, '30; Junior Life Saving; Central Olympian Club.

A real little sport in the game of life and a girl that we all love.

EDGAR GOODMAN

We do not often find one who is willing to take a minor part, but in Ed we found a fellow who is willing to work hard in any job, be it large or small.

DOROTHY HENRY
Student Council; Central Art Club.

Graceful and pretty, she traversed our halls and scattered sunshine wherever she went.

MARY JANET NICOL
Society of Literature and History; Basketball Team '28.

She wins friends with her smile but it's her spirit behind that smile that keeps them.

BYRNA MARIE SANDY
Delphian Literary Society; Central Trouvere Club; Choral Club; "Mikado"; "Pinafore"; "Bells of Capistrano"; Girls' High School Club; Intersociety Representative; National Honor Society.

Byrna was the possessor of a versatile nature. She could be the leader of fun and yet could study and be an excellent student.

LUCILLE WARD
El Circulo Espanol.

Her pleasant manner held a certain charm over those who knew her and so she had many friends.

ELLA BATES
Her sunny disposition and perpetual smile made her known well at Central and all who knew her were glad for the opportunity.

GEORGE E. HERMELINK
George's work is self-eviddent of his ability. His interest in school activities and studies showed that he was always ready to back Central up in whatever he undertook.

JACK KNAPPER
1st Team Football, '29; All-Star Football '29; 1st Basketball '29; Central "C" Club.

Despite his only year here, Jack has been outstanding in both football and basketball. He has made friends with the entire school by his cheerful manner.

LUUELLA EGE
It isn't often we find a girl in the printshop but this shows Luella's versatile nature and desire to learn more.

MAX MONTGOMERY
2nd Lieutenant; Student Council; Boys' High School Club; Glee Club.

Max's quiet nature made for him a host of friends. He was not so quiet that he could not get honors as is shown by his record.

CHARLES HERBERT MALLON
Student Council; Central "C" Club; 1st Team Football '26, '27, '29; 1st team basketball '27, '30; All-Star Football '29; All-Star Basketball '29; Senior Ballot: Best Boy Athlete.

The school showed its appreciation for Herb's outstanding work. Their award was a fitting tribute to a swell athlete and friend.

Senior Will

WE, the Senior Class of nineteen hundred thirty of Central High School, City of Kansas City, County of Jackson and State of Missouri, being of sound mind, memory, and understanding, do make and publish this, our last Will and Testament, hereby revoking and making void all former Wills by us at any time heretofore made, "whereas" to Mr. Dubach, we leave the Junior Class with the hopes that they may appreciate his noble efforts to make amends for the work done by the outgoing seniors.

To Mr. Laughlin, we leave the Junior Class with the hopes that they may appreciate his noble, capable and understanding help of a most adequately organized Parents' Association, may be able to decrease casualties to a minimum.

To the Juniors, we endow the rights and privileges to keep the incoming sophomores under control; also three straight-jackets and one bottle of Potassium Cyanide.

To the Sophomores we bequeath our old Christmas tree ornaments and decorations for a start on a Senior Prom in 1932.

Our most beautiful second-hand halo goes to the Slaches whose remarkable progress in Inter-society has inspired us to do this act.

To the Websters we leave our most efficient social committee.

To the Aristonians goes one bottle of our finest 18c perfume.

To the Minervas—but need we go further?—their needs are known to all—merely a cigarette lighter that works.

To the Franklins we bequeath a pearl handled revolver and a gentle hint.

To the Thalians we respectfully and seriously suggest that they purchase a mirror, to be used as a possible cure for their present malady.

To the Emersons goes enough adhesive tape and gauze to last them through the next football season.

And in conclusion we do hereby make, constitute and appoint Miss Esther Crowe and Mr. Benj. Chambers to be executor and executrix of this, our last Will and Testament.

In witness whereof, we, the Senior Class of Central High School, the testator above named, have hereunto set our name and affixed our seal this twenty-eighth day of April, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred thirty.

THE SENIOR CLASS

Per JUNIOR ZESKEY.

Signed, sealed, published and declared by the above named Senior Class of Central High School, as and for its Last Will and Testament, in the presence of us, who have hereunto subscribed our names upon request as witnesses thereto, in the presence of said Testator and of each other.

GUS PETERSON,
O. A. WOOD.

Dearest Jack—

There are so many thing that I want to say — things that I'm going to try to say - but I feel that I won't be able to express.

Undoubtedly, Jack, you have been one of the best, truest friends I have ever had. And I say that in all sincerity because you've treated me been no matter how I've acted. And I know I've acted kinda funny sometimes - but you always understood — or tried to.

You've shown me more good times this year. I feel that I owe a lot of my fun during my Senior year, to you — and believe me, I have really appreciated it.

Of course I know this isn't goodbye because I'll be seeing a lot of you this summer and next year too if we both go to the same schools.

I've always thought it was kinda superfluous, telling people what a big success they've made or how in the future, they're going to go over big – because it does sound like a line.

But, honestly, Jack, I do feel that you'll make something of yourself. You have the ability I might. And I do want to say that I hope that you'll get to be whatever you want to because I know that means an awful lot, in fact much more to a boy than to a girl.

I believe you've enjoyed no more success than you've deserved.

I don't know whether I've made myself clear – or whether you can understand just what I've been trying to say but I hope you do.

That's all – only I do want you to have –

All my best wishes for happiness

Ruth

YUDKOFSKY PENNINGTON GREEN BROWN

Constitutional Orations

Richard Brown, Edwin Green, Woodrow Pennington, and Joe Yudkofsky were selected as the four students from whom the Central Representative for the Seventh Annual Oratorical contests sponsored in Missouri by the Kansas City Star, would be se.ected at a preliminary contest held early this spring. The subjects used by the four aspirants were: Richard Brown, "The Constitution"; Edwin Green, "Youth and the Constitution"; Woodrow Pennington, "Origin of the Constitution;" and Joe Yudkofsky, "Our Constitution."

At an assembly held March 5, Joe Yudkofsky was selected as the Central Finalist. Richard Brown, last year's representative, placed second.

The orations were only six minutes long, as the rule governing the contest were changed. Each speaker gave a previously prepared speech six minutes long, and upon finishing this, was handed a subject in a sealed envelope for an extemporaneous speech. The speakers were given an hour in which to prepare their four minute talks. During this time, they were not allowed to use any references, or speak with anyone on their subject. Notes were not allowed. In past years the orations had to be ten minutes long and no extemporaneous speech was required.

Joe Yudkofsky placed second in the contest held at Convention Hall, April 12, in which the city finalist was chosen. Pat Ahern, of East High School, ranked first, and as a result, is the Kansas City Representative.

Much credit is due to Miss Rebecca Tomlin, instructor in Public speaking, for the valuable assistance which she gave Joe, and to the other Central students who were in the preliminary contest.

Dear Jack:

Really, Jack, I can't say just how much I've enjoyed knowing you the last two years.

I'll always remember you and your "No, are you!" or "The bells were ringing wet," etc. Really, your cleverness will always be one of the bright spots in my high school life. I'll never forget the times I've hardly been able to sit up, because of laughing at you.

However, Jack, I admire you not only for your wit, but also for your high ideals, and nice disposition. My only regret is that I've only known you two years.

Well, Jack, I'm sorry I have to quit so soon, but it's not because I can't think of anything to say, I'm afraid you would think it was the work of my imagination.

Don't forget to come back and visit us next year. I'll be looking for you.

All kinds of luck,

Passing In Review

In digging through the old Corr. Chat. columns Ye Ed. came upon some choice bits of dirt which he will now pass before your eyes . . . equipt with G. E. Talky . . . take the second aisle to your right . . . to return, we hope that fond (or otherwise) mem'ries may be aroused by this review . . . so

Here 'tis:

Dunn starts the year off with a bang, and wins a two-year scholarship to Osmosis Tech with a Relativity oration.

The Lit. Society Parents' Association clamps the handcuffs on the clubs.

The Franklins attempt to get cave-mannish and the natural consequences follow.

The annual deluge of Boley-Mattes Corr. Chat. pours into the Luminary Office as per usual.

Gicker and a female protege play Romeo and Juliet with Ditmars as the unintentional audience.

Another "How We Study" feature blurts into the Luminary.

Lane begins giving Butchart the run-round.

Craig springs his chronic, perennial "sore foot" and draws the "oooooohs" and "eeeeeeeeeees" of the feminine admirers.

The NAVY reigns supreme for a brief space and then disappears over the horizon on the good skiff "James Beddingbacon."

We decide to stay at Central after Doc Jenkins gives us the low down on Russia.

Chapline and Harrison get "center-ais'eish" over Bergman.

And Mr. Wood raises a mustache to keep from appearing effeminate, we are told.

Pugh comes to school with his first peach-fuzz reclining on the edge of a two-bit safety razor.

The manly art of bowling takes quite a hold on some of our boys.

The Luminary is completely revised and rejuvenated by the new staff of managing-idiots.

Then dime pipes become the rage and everyone is dizzy for a week or so.

And all at once six of us find out we've been handed the same line of bull by this Redman woman—thereby swearing offa 'em fer life (no kedding), this time—thirteen always was lucky..

But—Oh—(Thumpety, thump) it was so nice! !

The girls' consolidated Rib-crushing contest makes us renew our aforementioned vows.

Need we mention the fact that the April Fool Luminary seared itself across our line of vision and left the school gasping—that is, what was left of the school.

Also that outside of Pres., the Jr. election was more or less bull.

Which goes double for Senior Ballot.

And the Franklins go home very much discouraged and disgusted with Intersociety.

Which marks the closing event of the year and the end of our little ditty.

SCENE FROM "JOHNNY GET YOUR GUN"

"Johnny Get Your Gun"

BECAUSE Johnny Wiggins, a real movie actor, rebels against being hit by a pie, scores of delightful situations arise in "Johnny Get Your Gun," a comedy by Louis Bennison, which consists of a prologue and three acts. The thirty-sixth annual Christmas play, which was directed by Miss Virginia Robertson, instructor in expression, was presented Friday and Saturday nights, December 13 and 14.

"Johnny Get Your Gun" was dedicated to the class of 1929, in appreciation of its gift to the school, the new pylon scenery. The large and enthusiastic audiences which packed the auditorium on both nights, proclaimed the play a huge success.

Johnny is an honest-to-goodness cowboy who just won't put on a dress suit! Because of the pie episode, he is persuaded by Bert Whitney to go east and impersonate the long lost brother of Janet Burnham, an heiress. Janet is about to become engaged to a gold-digging English duke, and Bert, who is in love with her, comes west to find Bill Burnham, Janet's brother and guardian. He hopes that Bill will refuse to sign the marriage contract that would transfer Janet's fortune to the Duke, and when he discovers that Bill is in prison for killing a sheep-herder, he makes Johnny promise to take Bill's place.

When Johnny arrives at the aristocratic home of the Burnhams on Long Island, he upsets the household by his wild western manners. He is a disagreeable surprise to Janet's aunt, Miss Burnham, and to Mrs. Tupper, the Duke's business companion. However, Janet is delighted to see her "brother."

After interviewing the duke, Johnny decides that Bert would be a more appropriate husband for Janet so he refuses to sign the marriage contract. But the duke discovers Johnny's true identity, and decides to elope with Janet, because Johnny's signature will not be of any importance. Janet now is sure that she loves Bert, but she says that a Burnham never breaks his word, so she must keep her promise to marry the duke.

Meanwhile, Johnny is having a romance of his own with Jordan, the housemaid. Through the efforts of Jevne, the butler, his courtship is made more difficult.

The skein untangles, however, when the duke is denounced as an imposter. Janet agrees to marry Bert, and Johnny and Jordan elope. Bill Burnham is pardoned, and the curtain falls with Johnny and Jordan in each other's arms, and with Bert and Janet together.

In the Friday night cast, Leo Bergman as the live-wire Johnny, captivated the audience and produced wild applause. Janet was very successfully portrayed by Mary Harper. Ruth Barth was de ightful as Jordan, and Junior Bock displayed real dramatic ability as the duke. Don Fedderson was very impressive as Bert Whitney. The butler, played by Joe Herzmark, was responsible for many of the amusing situations. Frances Harvey successfully played the part of Miss Burnham, and Marion Schmidt was very clever as Mrs. Tupper. Biily Rownd as Pollitt, Kenneth Westenhaver as Cotter, and Harry Bodney as Milton, were entertaining and well liked.

On Saturday night Jack Hanback capably and realistically played the role of Johnny. Mary Lou Herzenstiel was charming as Janet. Real talent was displayed by Rebecca Dunn as Jordan. Farrell Strawn drew much applause as the foppish duke, and Char'es Siemon was excellent as Bert. Lawrence Siegle successfully portrayed the butler, and Rhea Rothschild played an enjoyable Miss Burnham. Pollitt, Cotter, and Milton, as portrayed by Clarence Tinsley, James Redmond, and James Higgins, were all pleasing.

To the Prince Howard Furniture Co., Parisian Studio, Mr. H. Fa'lak, Mr. J. M. Lukens, Miss Rebecca Tomlin, Mr. Harley, Miss Coah Henry, Miss Mildred Keating, Mr. A. H. Roberts, Mr. C. O. Williams, the stage crew, and many student assistants, a great deal of appreciation is due for their cooperative efforts and aid.

SCENE FROM "THE BELLS OF CAPISTRANO"

"The Bells of Capistrano"

A DELIGHTFUL plot, colorful setting, and clever singing and dancing, helped make "THE BELLS OF CAPISTRANO," a comic opera by Charles Wakefield Cadman, one of the most successful productions ever given by the Central Choral and Glee Clubs. The opera, which was presented on Friday and Saturday nights, November 22 and 23, was directed by Miss Mari F. Whitney, instructor in music. It differs from operas that have formerly been presented at Central, in that it has a modern plot and modern setting. The plot centers around the Ortego ranch. Drought and mysterious disappearance of cattle, have left Ramon, its present owner, with but one herd of cattle to pay off a heavy mortgage which is held by Jake Kraft. The Indian medicine man Pose, who is in the pay of Kraft, urges the Indians to "rustle" the last of the Ortego cattle, because the ranch is on land that formerly belonged to the Indians. Until the bells of Capistrano mission ring again, the Indians will suffer from a curse which has supposedly been laid upon them.

Noneeta, an Indian girl, who is a maid in the Ortego household, overhears the conversation between Kraft and Pose. She begs her lover, Lone Eagle, a young Indian chief, to save the Ortego ranch. At first he refuses to do this, because he is jealous of Ramon, but he finally promises to bring back the herd. Noneeta realizes too late that she has sentenced him to death, by making him a traitor to the tribe.

In the meantime, Professor Anderson, an eastern college professor, with his sister Laura, and students, arrive at the ranch. Billy Burns, a cowboy, falls in love with Laura, while three of the boys fall in love with the Ortego sisters. Martin, a college friend of the latter, arrives with her father, James Alden, who has been sent to restore the old mission.

When word comes that the Ortego cattle have been stolen, Noneeta tells Marian of Lone Eagle's promise and sacrifice. Marian also discovers that if the mission bells were to ring on the night of the full moon, that the Indians would believe the curse lifted, and become friendly, the cattle would be restored, and Lone Eagle saved.

Marian discovers an old painting which discloses a secret map, of a mine of great richness. The mortgage threatens to make the discovery useless, and the sullen Indians prevent access to the mission. Noneeta eludes them as the ranchers despair, and causes the old bells to break their long silence, as the full moon rises.

Lone Eagle drives in the herd, but is saved from the wrath of the Indians who are reconciled with Ramon, when he promises restoration of their land. The ending is completely happy, for Marian and Ramon find that they love each other.

The same cast played both nights. Geraldine Henthorne, whose voice shows many promising qualities, aptly portrayed the soprano lead of Marion Alden. C. L. Gray was well received by the audience as Ramon, the baritone lead. Grace Kincaid was very successful as Noneeta, the young Indian girl, and Lone Eagle, her lover, was played by Wilmer Elton, who drew much applause from the audience. Frances Nuccio, Edith Reid and Geraldine Wright as the Ortego sisters, and Harry Heeney, James Littrell, and Benjamin Driggs, as three college boys, proved very popular with the audience, their clever dances and songs being one of the main attractions of the opera. The role of Billy Burns, the tenor lead, was commendably portrayed by Kenneth Dueker. Frances Lauderdale was charming as Laura, and Frank Bayless was especially convincing as Pose, the Indian medicine man. The three speaking parts of James Alden, Jake Kraft, and Professor Anderson, were capably played by Stephen Kaney, Daniel Feingold, and Herman Higgins. A great deal of credit is due to the choruses, and the orchestra deserves special mention for its artistic work and splendid co-operation.

In addition to the director and the cast, there were others, who by their splendid co-operation contributed to the successful presentation of "The Bells of Capistrano." They are: J. M. Lukens, business; C. O. Williams, stage manager, and Barrett Moore, Albert Schmidt, Eldon Arbiter and Martin Spitzcaufsky, his assistants; A. H. Roberts, auditorium manager; Frederic Curth, orchestra director; Mary Louise Pyeatt, prompt book; Margaret Haworth, chorus leader; and Betty Davidson and Mary Louise Paris, pianists.

SCENE FROM "ONCE IN A LIFETIME"

"Once in a Lifetime"

"ONCE In a Lifetime," a fantastic comedy written by Charles Quinby Burdette, in collaboration with Miss Virginia Robertson, who also directed the play, was presented to large, appreciative audiences, on Friday and Saturday nights, April 4 and 5. The play, filled with quick action, a passionate love theme, revenge, and fiery jealousy, portrays the loves, and intrigues of the intense nature of the gypsy race. The charm of the production was enhanced by the addition of specially prepared gypsy music and dances, which were incorporated to make the charm and vivid colorfulness of the production.

Konrad, a violinist, who has strains of gypsy blood in his veins, leaves the home of his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rose, and decides to follow the vagabond life of a gypsy, with a group of gypsies who camp near his home. Although he is reluctant to leave his foster parent's niece, the lovely Laurie, he thinks that she is in love with Dinsmore, a novelist, and so when Zara, a member of the tribe, invites Konrad to come with them, he joins the gypsies.

Stan, a gypsy, who is in love with Zara, is extremely jealous of Konrad, because of Konrad's infatuation for the girl. Soon, Laurie, the Ross's, Dinsmore, Stella the apathetic servant, and Rodney, a half witted villager, visit the camp. The Dara and Dayo, Zara's father nd mother, invite Stan and Konrad to bid for the gypsy girl. Konrad wins, but when a fierce storm comes, and he thinks Laurie has been killed, he realizes that he really loves Laurie, rather than Zara.

Konrad finds Laurie alive and well, and the play ends happily, with the two declaring their love for each other.

SCENE FROM "ONCE IN A LIFETIME"

Farrell Strawn played the difficult role of Konrad, very successfully, on Friday night. Katherine Courtney was clever as Laurie, and Vivian Dale sucessfully portrayed Zara. Paul Mathew's excellent portrayal of Stan showed real dramatic ability, and James Redmond was pleasing as Dinsmore. Harry Bodney commendably enacted the part of the Dara, while Pearl Jackson was capable as the Dayo. James Higgins and Nettie Beth Cade, as Mr. and Mrs. Ross were excellent, and Stella the cook, was most vivaciously played by Dorothy Crutcher. Lillian Farnsworth and Roberta Greding, as Katinka and Carmena, Zara's sisters, were very clever.

In the Saturday night cast, Paul Gribben, the hero of many previous productions, displayed wonderful dramatic ability as Konrad, and Mary Ellen Herndon charmingly and delightfully enacted the part of Laurie. Barbara Gibany was exceptionally entertaining as Zara. The role of Stan was effectively portrayed by Charles Siemon, and Don Fedderson made a realistic Dinsmore. Ben Mossell drew much applause as the Daro, and Reah Boswell was pleasing as the Dayo. Mr. and Mrs. Ross were well-played by Lawrence Siegle and Eleanor Sandy. Blanche Klieman was comical as Stella. Katinka and Carmena, were effectively portrayed by Julia Robinson and Fairy Cunningham.

Junior Bock's portrayal of Rodney, both nights, was a signal for laughter and applause. Elliot Fenton successfully played a garage errand boy. Thelma Quinn and Fairy Cunningham, gave three specialty dances, and Gerald Lindsay played a violin solo between acts.

The splendid cooperation of the following, aided greatly in making the production a success: The Parisian Studio; Mr. J. M. Lukens; Mr. A. H. Roberts; Mr. C. O. Williams; Mr. Gus Peterson; the Central Luminary; Smith Studio; Mrs. Mildred Dale; student assistants; Mr. F. J. Curth, and the Central orchestra.

Stage Crew

FEW of the productions at Central could have effected the undoubted success which they attained, without the vital aid of the stage crew. To be a member of the stage crew is indeed a high honor, as it is one of the most responsible positions that a student may receive. Any boy chosen must have good grades, be resourceful, agile, and be able to follow directions thorough y. At any insubordination, or shifting of responsibility, one is dismissed.

For the last six years, Mr. C. O. Willams, instructor in physics, has selected and supervised the activities of the stage crew. Barrett Moore, the only member of the crew who had experience last year, is the stage manager and electrician. It is his duty to study the manuscript and plan the arrangement of the stage settings for plays and operas produced. He also operates the rheostats, which were presented by the class of '26. Shelby West is the stage electrician. He manipulates the motion picture machine and the spotlight, work which requires the utmost skill. The official stage carpenters are Donald Wilson and Martin Spitzcaufsky. In working backstage with the scenery, they do general carpentering.

Every dramatic presentation at Central is in itself sufficient proof of the success of the crew. The colorful setting of "The Bells of Capistrano," the natural atmosphere produced by the settings in "Johnny Get Your Gun," and the good lighting effects of "Once in a Lifetime," were accomplished entirely by the unseen force behind the drops.

Several of the former members of the stage crew have accepted positions in legitimate theaters, and they are grateful for the experience obtained in this work at Central. To the stage crew of 1930, Central students owe appreciation for its splendid cooperation and ingenuity.

STAN MITCHELL
COOPERATION

Dear Jack:

My friendship this last year has made me feel like I have known you for years. I'm sure it will always last. I will always remember the times we've spent together and the times spent with the rest of the gang & in club. Bowling, dating together at dances, on Luminary staff & just tearing around in general.

I know that with all your cleverness & personality you'll be as big a shot in life as you were at Central. Whenever you recall the days at school try & remember me as one of the old gang & one you can always call a true friend. May you enjoy the very best in life. So "bottoms up & here's to you"

Ennis.

ATHLETICS

NOT only the athletes themselves but the student body as well was responsible for this splendid record made this season in the various sports. Lusty and encouraging moral support took a great part in producing this year's lasting success. Hearty recognition goes to those bobbing, jumping, inspiring cheer leaders who ever had the rooters loudly vocalizing their confident cheers.

Our cheerleaders were necessary to arouse the emotions of the crowd and guide them in expressing their verbal support. The harmony in their execution of yells and the cooperation they received speaks for itself.

Richard Brown, an assistant of last year, was named head cheer leader. Dick's enthusiasm and leadership impressed all who saw him and the stands were always eager to hear his loud clear voice announce the next cheer.

Don Fedderson was the tallest of the three boys and just enough to make his leading graceful and pleasing to the eye. Don's steady calm voice coordinated with Dick's, placing rhythm in every shout and the reaction of the crowd was amazing.

Linn Dannahower, witnessing his first year in Senior High, was elected as the third cheer leader. His jolly, joking good nature was conveyed to the students as well as his extreme seriousness in getting a loud response. Linn seemed to take great delight in performing the "horse and buggy" yell.

This year a new method was adopted in selecting the cheerleaders. The student council was given the right to select the representatives through a vote. Each contestant tried out in the auditorium and was judged as the council saw fit. A requirement was made that the three leaders would be representatives from the senior, sophomore, and junior classes.

Through this new method experience will be afforded to the next year and each season will find an experienced cheerleader among the three.

John Porter, Sidney Moore, and Hayden Zimmerman were selected as assistants.

SLAYMAKER TALMADGE GUEMPLE

THIS season found the pages of Central history further decorated with outstanding athletic achievements. Behind the victorious teams stand Coach Harry Slaymaker and Coach Frank Guemple, who loyally and effectively gave their guiding hand to the aspiring athletes. Coach Slaymaker developed another championship football team and waged a successful track campaign. Coach Guemple, for the first time, took over basketball and coached the boys to a city and a state championship when all the followers of the game thought the task impossible. Coach Slaymaker, as head mentor, stands for the highest type of sportsmanship and throughout the season developed it in the athletes. We are indeed grateful to these men who have so willingly advanced athletics in our school to a higher and greater plane.

If there was any doubt in the mind of any person concerning the ability of Frank Guemple as a coach, it is now forgotten. Coming to Central last year in the role of assistant coach, he has kept his record unblemished by giving the school victories symbolic of his wares. In addition to a state championship in basketball, an all-victorious second team in football is among his offerings. Coach Guemple has proved that he is a real instructor and his teachings will not be forgotten but remembered by all Centralites.

Harry Slaymaker, as head coach, has stamped his name in the hearts of all those affiliated with him. Not only his splendid triumphs in football and track but his fine character will be remembered by Central in the many years to come. During the time he has been here he has carried on the work his predecessor, Louis Menze now at Ames, Iowa, had begun. He saw that there were no lax periods in the athletic history that he was making.

One man is the unsung hero of Central athletes. His modest and unassuming manner keeps him from being brought into the limelight as one of the main cogs in the Blue and White machinery. This man, T. E. Talmadge, has for years handled the financial side of all the sports in an efficient and praiseworthy style. Central is beginning to realize more and more the great work of Mr. Talmadge.

Well boy we've had a good time in rehearsals any way

Football proved to be one of the strongest of the major sports this year with Central winning every game except one. The team was strong and, although lacking in experience of last year's eleven to some extent, set up a string of victories that is pleasing to gaze upon. Coach Harry Slaymaker deserves the honor and praise for extending so excellent a guiding hand over the athletes.

Stanley Stoeltzing and Joseph Harbaugh were co-captains and shared the duties in piloting the team to an undefeated Interscholastic League Championship. Jack Knapper, Stoeltzing, Herbert Mallon, Theodoric Bland, and Ed Bruce were chosen for the All-Star team.

PRE-SEASON GAME

In the first game of the season Wyandotte followed its performance of last year and fell before the Blue Eagles 25-0. The defensive ability of Central was remarkable but it was outshone by its crushing offense. It was in this contest that the passing combination of Knapper to Mallon first came into play. Two of the touchdowns were the result of long flips by Knapper, while Shutty and Stoelzing contributed the other two with line plunges.

FIRST GAME

Northeast was the first victim of the strong Central outfit by a 13-0 count. The Vikings displayed more fighting power than was expected and made the game fairly even. Knapper put the first points over with a drive through the line. In the third quarter the final score was made when Mallon received a long pass from Knapper and crossed the goal line. Ben Husbands, the quarterback, was injured in this game and was forced from competition for the remainder of the season.

SECOND GAME

The strong wings of the Eagles swept the Paseo Pirates to the wayside, 25-2, in a hard fought contest. The first score against Central for the season was made when the Pirates obtained a safety. Bruce, Bland, Spencer, and Harbaugh, combined with the work of Peters, held the slack Red team at a stand still. Knapper and Mallon went well and Stoeltzing played up to his reputation.

THIRD GAME

A driving rain kept the game with Southwest from being as interesting as it might. The slipping Eagles and Indians had a hard time to hold the slippery ball. Stoeltzing scored in the last half twice to break the see-saw affair of the first period. Knapper flipped the ball to Mallon who went close to the goal line and then tossed another to Stoeltzing who went over for six points. Stoeltzing hit the line for the other counter. The score was 13-0.

FOURTH GAME

The first touchdown of the season against the Eagles was made by the Westport Tigers. Central had no trouble in defeating them, 32-6, after the defense tightened. Their touchdown was the result of a long pass but it was counteracted when Bruce intercepted a pass and ran sixty yards to a touchdown. George Smetzer was removed from the game with a dislocated shoulder, which kept him from play during the rest of the year.

FIFTH GAME

A tall shifty group of athletes from East High were the next opponents to feel the sting of defeat from Central. They were downed 20-0 in a slow listless game that was far from the term exciting. Eight of the Duck passes were intercepted and made use of in driving plays. Although the contest was but mediocre it proved the splendid defense of the Blue and White champions.

SIXTH GAME

Manual lived up to the dope and fell before Central 25-0. The day was cold and spectators had a difficult time sitting in the bleachers to watch the game. Stoeltzing was the star of the day with his driving, crashing, long runs. During this contest he piled up enough points to give him individual scoring honors of the city. Mallon was removed from the game due to an injury, while Harbaugh was inactive with knee injuries. This was the last competition of Central and the victory gave them the unbeaten league championship.

POST-SEASON GAMES

One black mark in the games of Central was placed in black ink by Central High School of St. Joseph. They defeated the Eagles 9-7 in one of the most exciting, hard-fought heart-breaking games ever witnessed on the Holmes Field. During the larger part of the play Central held a lead, the result of a Knapper to Mallon pass. St. Joseph intercepted a pass, however, and later broke through with a winning touchdown. This defeat was no dishonor to Central as it displayed their true courage and fighting spirit.

SECOND TEAM FOOTBALL

In addition to a championship football team this season a splendid all-victorious reserve squad with amazing record was established by Coach Frank Guemple. This second team won the championship for their division and held an unblemished goal-line during their campaign. Their football tactics were excellent and enabled them to pile up 125 points for the season scoring total.

Usually the second team is used as a means of promoting a better first squad and they are not expected to win victories. It is the duty of these athletes to serve as practice marks and then, if they are able, to try their hand at winning games in their class. In order that the preparation and training received by the boys will be put to use the following year no Senior is allowed to play with them.

At times the battles were hard and at times they were lax, but every moment of play found the young Eagles playing their hardest and ever ready to give their best efforts if the occasion called.

Basketball Review

To the surprise and amazement of everyone Central produced one of the greatest high school basketball teams of her long history. Coach Frank Guemple coached his squad to a state championship as well as the undisputed Interscholastic league title. The dazzling array of basketball displayed by the athletes, combined with the Central fighting spirit, led them to splendid victories throughout the season.

Headed by their co-captains, Vernon Heygood and Ben Husbands, the team, composed of Herbert Mallon, Sidney Peltzman, Mickey Morrow, Sam Deek, Harold Bird, Stanley Stoeltzing, Joseph Peters, and Jack Knapper, established themselves as the best group of players in the city and also the state. The greatest competition of the year was with East High School, last years state champions.

WYANDOTTE GAME

The first contest of the season found Central with a tall team that possessed plenty of height but lacked speed. They had a tight defense during this game but lacked the scoring punch necessary to win. Mallon was the star, collecting a good number of goals. The height of the Eagles was more than counteracted by the speed of the flashy Bulldog five. The score found Central on the short end.

ST. JOSEPH CENTRAL GAME

Another defeat was suffered by the Blue Eagles when the hard-fighting quintet from St. Joe met them on the court. Coach Guemple shifted his lineup to find where the weak flaw was, but was unable to win the contest. Knapper and Stoeltzing played well for Central, while Mallon kept his finger in the scoring pie.

FIRST GAME

With the dope decidedly against them the Central crew proceeded to turn back Northeast. Coach Guemple started a new lineup, with Bird at center, Morrow and Heygood at forward, and Knapper and Stoeltzing at guard. This combination was successful in every way and gave forth an excellent exhibition of real basketball.

SECOND GAME

Another victory was registered for the Blue and White when Paseo was forced to bow. Although the game was c'ose throughout, victory for the Guemple crew was made certain in the last quarter when Central piled up a comfortable lead. This game marked the close of high school athletics for Jack Knapper, Hal Bird and Stanley Stoeltzing. These boys became ineligible due to the nine semester ruling.

THIRD GAME

With Central in the lead, tied with East, another battle was quoted on the victory column. Southwest, last year's co-champions, were bested in an easy game. The play was featured with new men, both for Central and Southwest. Peltzman went in at center for the Eagles while Mallon and Bill Bryan took charge of the guard positions.

FOURTH GAME

Westport, having beaten East in a surprise upset, went against Central to find themselves at a loss. The Eagles triumphed over them. Peltzman and Morrow starred in the game, while Mallon played well. Due to this victory and the defeat of East the week before, Central gained the undisputed league lead. Sam Beek replaced Bryan at guard due to an injury received by the latter in a previous game.

FIFTH GAME

East themselves were the next victims of the powerful Central five. The game was touted as the most exciting of the season, and it surely was. Morrow, Peltzman, and Mallon were the scorers for the champions. This victory cinched the league championship.

SIXTH GAME

Manual was the last Interscholastic league foe to be added to the defeated column. The game was nothing like the performance of last season as the champions had things their own way. Goldstein starred for the Red Devils, while the entire Central aggregation played well. This was the final league contest of the season.

ST. JOSEPH BENTON GAME

Perhaps the boys were a bit over-confident due to their long string of victories, at any rate they were beaten by a fast, accurate-shooting five from Benton of St. Joe. During the last few minutes the score was tied, but Benton won out, 22-18.

STATE GAMES

Kirksville lost to Central in the first game of the state meet 26-16. The play was featured by the work of Morrow and Peltzman. Mallon and Heygood also played exceptionally. The next contest was to be played that evening with Pleasant Hope.

Pleasant Hope fell before the Guemple men 19-18, in a game that required two over-time periods. Morrow saved the game with a free flip in the last few seconds of play and Peltzman won it in the second over-time period on a free throw. This game was won and lost in the short time and the entire audience commented on the excitement.

Windson offered stiff competition to the Eagles in the semi-final contest, but were beaten 14-12. The game was thrilling, like those before it, and was never decided until the final gun sounded. Mallon, Husbands and Morrow played at top form.

ROCKHURST GAME

Rockhurst High jarred Central with a 22-17 victory in a contest played on the small Rockhurst court. The playing conditions had a telling effect on the Blue Eagles, as they were not accustomed to such a small court. The Hawk guards made most of the points on long shots.

PRELIMINARY GAMES FOR STATE TOURNAMENT

This year a section tournament was required for eligibility in the state tourney at Columbia. Central bowled over Westport in the first game, 27-17. Then then knocked Paseo out with a 20-9 trimming. These two victories won for them an entrance to the meet, so the game with East in the finals was more or less worthless. Coach Guemple entered the second team and was beaten 24-7.

In the Missouri State Basketball finals East met Central, its local rival. The game was a duplicate of the one played here at Convention Hall earlier in the season. Central won out 13-11. Although the score was close, the play of the Eagles was superior to that of the Black Bear outfit. Morrow was easily the star of the game, collecting four field goals and high points honors of the day.

Thus Central has this season found a team of real athletes. Not only excellent in their ability but also splendid in true sportsmanship. We are grateful to them and to the man who lead them to the victories.

Second Team Basketball

The reserve basketball team was used this year as a basis of the first squad. They contributed several of their members to the main group during the middle of the season to fill vacancies left by the nine semester ruling. Due to this reason the team was found inexperienced and lacked balance.

This season found the team with no mentor, due to the advancement of Coach Guemple to first team coach. Several of the boys tried their hand at the management and waged a fairly successful season. As the best material was drafted to the first squad they were not expected to gather victories but to gain experience for the oncoming season.

Track

FOR two seasons Central has had one of the strongest teams in Missouri. They have won the City Meet twice in succession and have been winner and runner up in state meets at Columbia. This year the talent and experience was lacking to a certain extent but the old fighting spirit was ever visible. Coach Harry Slaymaker coached the boys into one of the best teams in the city.

The 1930 track squad was built around Captain R. E. Smith, Donald Shutty, John Brannon, Shirley Wright, Norwood Klumpp, Norman Hunt and Gene Shultz. It seemed that the need for experience and the bad breaks lost several meets for Central.

Central was by far the most powerful team on the indoor track at Convention hall as they won both with ease. It was the lack of field men that kept the hopes of the team low in the outdoor classics.

K. C. A. C. Meet

Like true sons of Central the Blue Eagles annexed honors in the annual K. C. A. C. meet by winning first place in every event except the quartermillerun. Smith and Shutty placed first and second in the fifty yard dash, Norwood Klumpp won the half mile and Central took both the eight-lap relay and the new four-lap relay. The nearest rival school was Paseo, who was not close enough to make any serious trouble. The final score of Central was 23.

The K. U.-Aggie Meet

A new gathering took the place of the customary K. U.-M. U. annual meet that was declared off because of difficulty in arranging a suitable time. The Blue and White colors again run high as Central triumphs over the other high schools. Smith again won the dash and Shutty ran second. Only one relay was run and Central easily out-distanced her rivals.

Central Northeast Dual Meet

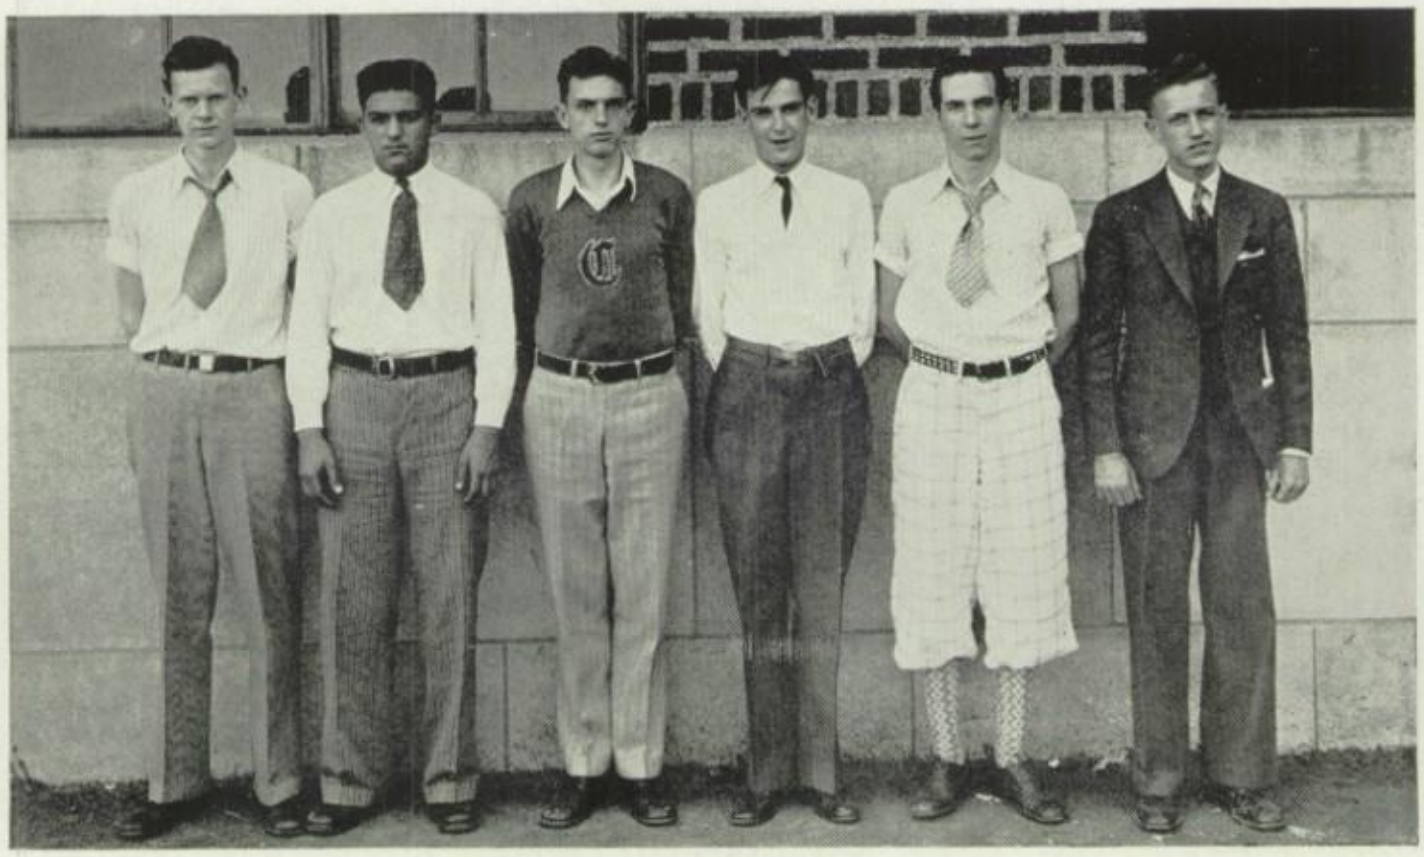
Northeast presented a very strong track squad this year turning back the Eagles 49-42. Central outscored the Vikings in the dash events when Shutty ran first in the 100-yard dash and 220 low hurdles, and Brannon won the 220-yard dash. Weakness in field events prevented a victory. As was expected the half-mile relay composed of Shutty, Zurovsky, Wright and Brannon went to Central.

Paseo Dual Meet

This season found Paseo with one of the strongest track teams in the history of their school. Although the "dope" slightly favored Central it was completely overturned when the Pirates won 50 to 5. Smith won the century dash and also the low hurdles. A shutout in the shotput and 220 ended the chances for a victory. The upset of the day was caused by a "bad break," when Central lost the relay. Wright, running second and holding a seven-yard lead stumbled in passing the baton to Brannon.

Wyandotte Dual Meet

In the new Wyandotte stadium in Kansas City, Kansas, Central was humbled by the Bull Dogs 55¼ to 35¾. Coach Harry Slaymaker credited the loss to the lack of experience. Smith won both the 100-yard dash and the low hurdles while Wright and Brannon helped out in the dash events with seconds in the 440 and 220 yard dashes. Unexpectedly Central won the pole vault but failed to place but third in the high jump. In the Paseo meet the two events were just opposite, thus proving the inconsistentcy or lack of experience of the team.



Gooldy, George, Brannon, Bramwell, Grout, Surface.

Tennis

EACH year Tennis takes a long stride to popularity and although a minor sport, has a larger group of contestants than any other athletic activity of the school. This year in addition to the spring tournament several dual meets were played in which Central fared successful. The six boys shown above composed the team.

Mr. Benjamin Chambers, as in the year before, took charge of the tennis situation. He made out the drawing and sponsored the matches of the school tournament. The team is composed of finalists of the half-a-hundred boys who compete in the try outs each year.

This year Hal Surface and Alex George were selected to represent Central in the singles. Alex was number one ranking player and Hal second. As in the previous year John Brannon and Milton Gooldy were the doubles team along with Bill Bramwell and Leonard Grout.

Surface played well in the interscholastic league tournament and went to the finals where he was beaten by Cutlip. Bramwell and Grout reached the semifinals in the doubles but were elimnated by Paseo. The Blue Eagle netmen are advancing in this sport and due to present indications will soon be at the top.

Each of the members of the team graduate this year with the exception of Grout.

An attempt was made to establish indoor tennis during the winter months but the difficulty found in playing on the gym floor rendered it impossible. Central was the only school that tried this plan and, although it failed, might prove to be a success later on.

The last play of the school year is the state meet at Columbia. Central last year made a fair showing in the singles and doubles although they did not succeed in winning awards.

Alex George and Hal Surface distinguished themselves in the Kansas State meet at Baldwin.

Girls' Athletic Review

"A SOUND Mind in a Sound Body" the second half of this ideal has been successfully cared for this year in the Girls' Physical Education Department under the able supervision of Miss Rebekah Leibengood and Miss Mary Henschel. This department cares for the physical welfare of Central's girls by affording them opportunities for participation in all outdoor sports and health-giving activities. Among these soccer, hockey, basketball, volleyball, baseball and swimming feature most prominently.

Miss Rebekah Leibengood coached hockey and baseball. Also under her a number of girls passed their Junior Life Saving test, and a few girls their Senior Life Saving test, which is a very difficult task.

Miss Mary Henschel, a newcomer this year at Central, had charge of soccer, basketball and volleyball. Besides these Miss Henschel instructed both her own and Miss Leibengood's classes in clog and tap dancing once a week. The "Skaters Waltz," a very effective and beautiful dance under her direction was presented in the R. O. T. C. Circus, April 11, at Convention Hall.

To stimulate interest and create competition, each year girls are chosen for their ability, cooperation, and good sportsmanship to act as managers of the sport in which they excel. This year the managers were: Hockey, Madeline Tousley; Soccer, Jeanne Storey; Basketball, Mary Louise Paris; Volleyball, Madalyn Gray; Baseball, Janice Storey; Swimming, Eleanor Higgins; Hiking, Helen Pettit and Marie Duebbert.

Although the gymnasium department fosters an interest in athletic activities it also encourages the social interests. This year the Hallowe'en party, an annual affair, was given very successfully on October 31, in the big gymnasium. Although the party was sponsored by the girls in the physical education department, all the girls in school were invited and the attendance was greater than ever before. The entertainment consisted of dancing, games, refreshments and a program by the girls in the department. All proved interesting and amusing, and the party was one where gaiety and laughter prevailed.

R. O. T. C. Dance

THIS year, the same as before, the girls of the gymnasium department were in the R. O. T. C. Circus, which was April 11, in Convention Hall. As usual the girls from each school put on a stunt or did a dance for entertainment.

Central's part in the circus this time was a very effective dance, "The Skaters Waltz," performed by 80 girls of the gymnasium department. The dance was taught by Miss Mary Henschel, instructor, who also chose the girls who were to be in it.

"The Skaters' Waltz" represented couples of skaters on the ice, and was made very pretty by the costumes of the girls. Part of the girls wore white sweaters and skirts, white tams, and white shoes and hose. The other half of the group wore white knickers, white sweaters and white shoes and stockings.

The dance was received very enthusistically by the audience as it was different from any of the other dances.

Soccer

SOCCER, a new sport which has been taken up by the girls' gymnasium department this year, has proved to be very successful. As none of the girls had ever played soccer before, it was immediately taken up with such intense interest that it became one of the most popular outdoor sports. It was carried on the same as the regular major sports of the girls' athletic department, a tournament between the classes determining the champions.

Miss Mary Henschel instructor in soccer, and Jeanne Storey, soccer manager, chose the first teams. There were no second teams picked.

The games started on December 10, the Sophomores playing the Seniors. The team work of both teams was so excellent that neither team scored and the game ended 0-0. The Sophomore team played the Junior team December 16. This game, too, because of the good defensive work of both teams, was scoreless at the first half. Although each team put forth its best efforts to make a goal neither one was able to score and the game ended 0-0. The championship title was then between the Juniors and Seniors, the Seniors striving to uphold their title as champions of all sports. This game was played December 19 on a snow covered field. At the end of the first half the score was 0-0. The second half was made more interesting by a goal for the Seniors. This proved to be the only point scored, and the game ended 1-0 in favor of the Seniors.

The Senior and victorious team was made up of Tousley, Richards, Havis, Blackmore, Jeanne and Janice Storey, Paris Zitzerman, DuBois, and Gray. Scott, Cravens and Higgins were substitutes.

Members of the Junior team were Cooke, Shaw, Brown, Ford, Patterson, Mitchell, Adelsperger, Smith, Malave, Austin and Evans.

The Sophomore team; Miller, Brandon, Fannell, McGaven, Odom, Frances, Mathews, Greeding, Morlan, George, and Malloy. The substitutes were Virginia Afflick, Juggins, Younger and Foley. There was no all-star team.

Basketball

FROM the beginning of the school until the end, basketball holds the interest of the girls. Although it is a game for those who have good wind and who are swift on their feet, many girls played the game well this year and gained benefit from it. Unlike last year the classes of the various hours did not play against each other. There were class teams, but their games were played during the gymnasium hour.

A double tournament was scheduled for the teams to determine the champions. In this manner, the best team was sure to show its ability. The first game of the season, March 10, between the Seniors and Sophomores, resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Seniors. They easily defeated the Sophomores, gaining a score of 63-10, Madalyn Gray making most of their points.

March 12, the Junior first team downed the Sophomore first team with a score of 41-7. The first court tourney was brought to a close with a victory of the Seniors over the Juniors, March 13. The score of this game was 44-24, showing the superiority of the senior team.

The second tourney began March 17, with the Senior girls repeating the performnace of the first by an overwhelming victory of 58-7 over the Sophomore girls. The Junior-Sophomore team game which was March 18, resulted in a victory for the Juniors, 38-15.

Closing the tournament and winning the championship proved to be an easy task for the Senior team. March 20, they conquered the Juniors by a majority of 38-28.

Miss Mary Henschel, instructor, and Mary Louise Paris, Manager, chose the teams. The Senior team included Scott, Blackmore, Craven, Zitzerman, Tousley, Jeanne and Janice Storey, Higgins, Gray and Snell. The Junior team members were Adelsperger, Caton, Brown, Ford, Evans, Austin, Casley, Shaw, Cook and Smith. Those on the Sophomore team were, Miller, Cleveland, George, Franklin, Juggins, McGavern, Davis, Stuckert, Afflick, Stevens, Maloy, and Brandon.

Hockey Review

HOCKEY, the principal fall sport, proved to be one of the most interesting and exciting games of the year. The keen competition between the classes and the evenly-matched teams were the chief causes of this. Each class had practice once a week under the instruction of Miss Rebekah Leibengood, coach, and Madeline Tousley, Hockey Manager.

After the teams were chosen, the first game was played November 4, with the Juniors taking a hard won victory from the Sophomores. The score was 1-0 in favor of the Juniors. The Sophomores, although showing good team work in their games, were again defeated by the Seniors, November 7, by a slight margin. The score was 2-1 in favor of the Seniors. The last game, the one to decide the championship team, was played, November 11. The Juniors met the Seniors to decide this issue. After hard playing the score at the end of the first half was 0-0. This seemed to encourage the players, for the Juniors charged the Senior's defense and made a goal. The Seniors, fighting to gain the championship title, showed some excellent team work, which resulted in a goal made in the last two minutes of play. The last half of the game ended with the score 1-1, tying the game and the championship.

The Senior team was made up of Cravens, DuBois, Gray, Zitzerman, Jeanne and Janice Storey, Richards, Scott, Snell, Tousley, Blackmore, Pettit and Higgins.

Those on the Junior team were Adelsperger, Caton, Evans, Buechner, Wettig, Smith, Dorfman, Ford, Shaw, Patterson, Cooke, Brown and Evans.

The Sophomore team was as follows: Morlan, Palmer, Huggins, Davis, Malloy, Jane Daughters, Grimes, Martin, Younger, Brandon and Heimerdinger.

Members of the All-Star team were: Jeanne and Janice Storey, DuBois, Gray, Tousley and Higgins, Seniors; the Juniors were Brown, Evans and Patterson. Malloy and Brandon were the Sophomores on the team.

Swimming Review

THE swimming pool is perhaps the most popular place in Central for the girls. Here the beginners receive training in the fundamentals of swimming, while the more advanced are taught more difficult strokes, and diving. Twice a week girls of each class have the swimming pool where they have the advantage of learning more about the most wholesome and useful sport.

Life Saving has become an important factor in the swimming course and Red Cross Life Saving tests are speedily becoming an annual event in the gymnasium program. Miss Leibengood instructed a class in Junior and Senior Life Saving tests this year. A number of girls passed these tests. To those who passed one of them the official emblem and pins of the American Red Cross were awarded. To pass the Senior Life Saving tests the applicant must be 17 years of age or a senior in school, must be able to carry a person 2 lengths of the pool using 5 different carries, swim a mile, break 3 different holds of a drowning person, and be able to administer artificial respiration, and write an essay on the advantages of the Prone Pressure method.

The Junior Life Saving test is not so difficult and is usually given to sophomores and juniors.

For the fourth consecutive time, the annual Intersociety swimming meets have been held, the Delphian Literary Society swam to victory. The meet was March 14. The points for the Delphians were 36½ while the Aristonians followed with 32½. The Slache won 10 points.

Meredith Filkin, an Aristonian, gained first place in individual honors. Mary Jane Funk, second, and Eleanor Higgins third. The latter two are Delphians. The various events were porpoise for form, breast stroke for form, breast stroke for race, side stroke for form, side stroke for race, back stroke for form, back stroke for race, diving and free style race. The judges were Miss Amerette Root and Miss Leibengood. Eleanor Higgins was swimming manager.

Dear Jack:

It's mighty hard to write in the books of those whom you have known so well but I hope that you realize how much I've enjoyed your friendship. I may have griped about you sometimes but that was in my goofy moments. We all got tired at one end or t'other and then we find that farewell means plenty.

We had a lot'a keen times with T. D. (Thumb Ditty). He had a great time being bawled out. ect. He will always remember the Business Manager and his easy time of it.

Your humor kept club going when it was becoming dead. Your enthusiasm helped us all. We had a common ground at Columbia but I've didn't mingle any thing. Don't you think that those Columbians must have cheated or something since they beat us.

Well so long but not good-by, big shot. Do not make a pun as you know them all.

Good Luck.

Jack.

CENTRAL BATTALLION R. O. T. C.

R. O. T. C. Review

WITH each year, the Central battalion of the R. O. T. C. has achieved increasing honors and recognition. Scholastic military training, which was introduced in the Kansas City High Schools in 1917, has been recognized as one of the most progressive and beneficial courses open to students.

The Central unit has been under the direction and supervision of First Sergeant Frank Bowling since 1923. An excellent staff of battalion officers has materially aided in the accomplishments of the R. O. T. C. in 1929 and 1930. Paul Byrum was appointed cadet colonel, January 27.

The R. O. T. C. circus has long been an institution in the Kansas City schools. The eighth annual circus was held at Convention Hall on April 11. Each high school illustrated a military tactic or drill which was accomplished in commendable fashion. Central's participation was outstanding for its value as a representation of the amount of work done in the military department during the year. The girls of Miss Mary Henschel's gymnasium department were represented in the "Skater's Waltz." The feature of the circus was the presentation of the caps and capes to the eight girls chosen sponsors by the seven Kansas City High Schools and Lathrop Trade School.

Central's unit has had more than its share of honors in the last seven years. The rifle team achieved unusual honors, winning the interscholastic championship among Kansas City High Schools, and the Missouri state championship. Because of the excellent training, Central received an honor rating from the War Department in 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929 and 1930. With the glories of the past accomplishments urging them on, the members of the Central unit of the R. O. T. C. unflinchingly strived in 1929 and 1930 to equal and surpass their previous records.

Dear Jack:-

I haven't the heart to say good bye, Jack, because without you it would seem rather dull —. I know you get tired being told you are witty — It's not that — It's you, yourself, Jack — don't forget — the personality of a fellow rarely shines out so prominently thru the surface as it does with you-

You know I hope that our good times won't over and if we may remain friends it will be a fulfillment of my highest wish.

"S-s-s-say, w-w-w-where's 301?"

"Outta th' way, Soph!"

Yep, you've guessed it—none other—the memorable First Day of School. Golly, the old halls sure looked good! It was the beginning of an entirely new life for some; the continuation of it for others; and the concluding days of a successful period of work and fun for the remainder.

Second Week—After the semi-annual, hard fought Battle of the Auditorium, Siemon, with colors flying, emerged victor and was crowned Council President, with Tappan, Rufi, Paxton, Stentz, and Brown to assist in governing the school. Mr. Ditmars, with his usual dignity announced Rufi, Zeskey, Mattes, and Harper as Luminary heads.

Third Week—Rownd pulls down the head job in Centralian and Yudkofsky receives the position of Business Manager. Brown, Fedderson and Dannahower, through their efforts at tryouts, lead the cheers at a pep assembly.

Fourth Week—Starting the season off with a bang, the Central eleven smashed its way through the Wyandotte line 4 times and ended 25 points ahead of its Kansas rivals.

Fifth Week—On their own field, Northeast met defeat at the hands of Slaymaker's Eagles, to the tune of 2 touchdowns. A hot day was the only disagreeable feature on the program.

Sixth Week—Continuing their masterful drive, Central downed Paseo with 4 touchdowns. Looks like another championship for the Eagles.

RETROSPECT

Seventh Week—In their annual mud-slinging contest Central, much the worse for the rain and storm, swam over the goal-posts of the Southwest Indians twice, and floated the pigskin over the bar once for a score of thirteen points. Despite the fact that Central's men were pursued by injuries, they received the breaks twice, and after a couple of fumbles by the bespattered Indians, were given a glimpse of the Championship Cup as the clouds broke. Howls and hoots went up as the bad news came in the form of the first five weeks grades.

Eighth Week—Maxine Tappan, for the second consecutive year, was elected president of her class, an honor given to a girl only twice in the school history. Rufi, Rowe, Brown, Rownd, Siemon, Cox and Booser received other offices. For the first time this year, our goal line was crossed; however, with her customary vigor, Central avenged herself with 5 touchdowns against Westport. The Student Council makes plans for a new edition of the handbook.

Ninth Week—And now we pay tribute to St. Joseph, whose remarkable fighting spirit coupled with a better team, enabled them to throw us into the throes of defeat for the first time in four years. It was no lack of fight and pep on our side, rather a more powerful St. Joe team, led by Stuber, which defeated us. The score was 9 to 7.

Tenth Week—With one handle of the cup already within our grasp, we now look forward to our fourth Interscholastic Pennant in succession. Our latest prey, East, left the field, much downcast after losing to a score of 20 to 0. Younger replaced Harbaugh after the latter was forced out due to an injured leg.

Eleventh Week—More rain and bad weather interfered with our last league game with Manual. Tuesday afternoon, however, witnessed a long run by Stoeltzing and the last of this season's league games. The Reds played a fine game, but with ample encouragement, the Centralites toted the ball over the line 4 times and won by a large margin. The Senior pins and rings will again be made by Jaccards according to an announcement from the committee this week.

Twelfth Week—Long flowing mustaches on handsome villians and heroes entertained the student body which came to see "Bells of Capistrano," the yearly comic opera presentation by the Choral and Glee clubs. For two nights the darkened auditorium was filled with such chanting and music as it has never heard before.

Thirteenth Week—As basketball practice begins in earnest, the club all-stars defeat the non-club members 6-0 in the annual feud. Coach Guemple sees a fair season ahead of the Eagle basketeers and hopes to soar high for a glimpse of the championship.

Fourteenth Week—Bergman and Hanback bring down the house as "Johnny" in the annual Christmas play. Harper and Herzenstiel make the audience gasp at their actions on the stage —as with Barth and Dunn. Shame! We say, shame!

Fifteenth Week—The school receives an added Christmas present from Mr. Gunter in the form of a turkey dinner. After which we go home to bed for twelve days to rest from the toil and strife of school work. Golly, it is hard to get up "the morning after the night before."

Sixteenth Week—While the students were deep in the arms of the Christmas holidays, the Eagles were trampled upon by the Wandotte Bull Dogs and lost the first basketball game to the score of 26 to 11.

Seventeenth Week—We take time out for mid-year exams and the Eagles beat the Pirates in the initial interscholastic game, which aids in putting us in a good humor for the fast approaching semester.

Eighteenth Week—Alas, poor souls, we weep—out of the whole Senior class they had to pick us for one of the senior committee. Ours is the problem of aiding Rowe, Booser, Rownd, Brown, Siemon and Cox select the proper pin, announcements, gift, celebration, programs and flowers for the commencement.

Nineteenth Week—Richard Brown breasts the tape several votes ahead of the rest at Boys' High School Club meeting and became its new president. Stentz, Graham and Wasgien are allowed to call the roll and keep the finances of the club according to the vote of the members.

Twentieth Week—Inaugurating a new place of management, Mr. Ditmars appoints Ed Green Ed-in-Chief of the Luminary and Gooldy, Vasholz, Russell, and Harvey as managing editors. In following this plan, Mr. Ditmars, is arranging the staff in the same manner as many of the other high school papers. It has proven more satisfactory than the previous plan.

Twenty-first Week—We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to the parents of Robert Steiner, a sophomore who died following an automobile accident.
Zelda Booser, is elected Student Council head. Stentz, Cox, Zimmerman, McBride and Siemon received other offices.

Twenty-second Week—Minnie Meadow and Junior Zeskey are chosen as Literary and Feature editors of the Centralian. John Brannon and Eleanor Higgins receive sports positions with Frank Butchart and Leland Sparks being awarded circulation manager and staff photographer.

Twenty-third Week—Apropos of their victory over the East High Greenies, the Eagles sink their talons into the championship cup and wrench it from last year's champs by a decisive score of 16 to 9.

Gribben, Strawn, Courtney and Herndon are selected as leads for the spring play.

AFTER GRADUATION—WHAT?

Probably a young man never faces a more momentous problem than the choice of a profession. We want to help you select yours. Aviation offers to intelligent young men unlimited opportunity. The adventurous, romantic life coupled with high profits makes flying an ideal career.

Most important is the school you select. The Curtiss-Wright Flying Service maintains 40 schools of aviation throughout America, each one especially equipped to train the youth of the nation to fly—the finest planes, the most modern equipment, the best fields—all fully approved by the Department of Commerce.

Our graduates go far both as pilots and executives. Write for literature and prices. You will be amazed to learn how quickly and inexpensively you can prepare for a career of success with Curtiss-Wright, the world's oldest flying organization.

Twenty-fourth Week—Riding high upon the crest of the victory wave, Central is completely swamped by Benton High of St. Joseph, 22-18. The post season game marks only the second time the Eagles have been beaten this season.

Twenty-fifth Week—As a concluding burst, Manual is defeated 24-10 by the championship Eagles. Winding up the season with a brilliant burst of fire, Central proudly claims the 20 inch Journal-Post cup and triumphantly marches off the field of battle.
With the Mizzou Ramblers moaning and boiling, the Girls' Consolidated Dance is held at the Mizzou Athletic club. Central and East are both eligible to go to Columbia for entrance in the State Basketball championship race. Here's to the Eagles!

Twenty-sixth Week—All hail the championship basketball team of the state! None other than our own Blue Eagles! Going to the finals with East High, the Ducks were the unlucky team to fall below the talons of the Eagles.

Twenty-seventh Week—The sixteen honorary positions on Senior Ballot were capably filled by Rufi, Rownd, Tappan, Brown, Martin, Pugh, Rowe, Strong, Minturn, Husbands, Vasholz, Yudkofsky, Dunn, Bergman, Gray, and Mallon after senior meeting.
Also eight new presidents were chosen by the Literary Societies.

Twenty-eighth Week—After several lengthy faculty meetings, the Central chapter of the National Honor Society was appointed. Thirty-five seniors received this honor out of a possible forty. George Dasbach was chosen Junior President with Katherine Courtney, Lillian, Dannahower, Don Fedderson, Mary Ellen Herndon, Gertie Husbands, Billy Rhodes, Farrell Strawn and Clarence Tinsley as aides.

Thirty-third Week—Twenty-five medals, more than twice the number won by any other high school, were brought back by the fifty Central students who went to Columbia for the State Interscholastic meet, not to mention the loving cup which should be the permanent possession of Central next year. Not to be outdone by its patrons, the Luminary pulled down third place in the contest in which it was entered.

A large "C," to be placed upon the athletic field terrace was finally chosen as the senior gift for 1930. It is to be of blue and white tile about ten feet square.

Thirty-fourth Week—The two High School clubs play host and hostess to the Freshmen girls and their mothers, as a closing gesture of the year.

Eight Juniors were also chosen to lead their respective clubs through the summer months and the opening term of next year. Those elected are: Frank Butchart, Mary Jane Funk, Kenneth Layton, Royalta Jones, Allene Roadcap, Gertrude Husbands, George Dasbach, and Stanley Mitchell.

This week also marks the edition of the Luminary wherein the lives of those who made the National Honor society, were made public,. We never realized that there were so many farmers in our midst until we saw that some of our more prominent personages hailed from Oshkosh and Podunk Center.
